The Editor's column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Public relations was the main topic at the Breakfast Club the other morning. There was a great difference of opinion expressed, but all agreed that good public relations were as important to a municipality as to a business firm.

As you have probably guessed it, the pro's and con's of police activity was the subject under discussion.

When and what laws should a police officer enforce? We personally believe that he should be allowed to use discretion.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company is about to become Arlington Heights largest taxpayer as well as employer. We think that firm temporarily is entitled to parking concessions.

It is making arrangements for a private parking lot near its dial building and will probably do the same in the vicinity of its large office building now under construction.

We should not give them the world with a fence around it, but we could give them a gate or 2.

These statements were recently made in the press:

"Eighty-eight per cent of last year's highway victims died because of violation of traffic laws. Nine out of 10 traffic fatalities are not accidents, but could more accurately be classified as murder, manslaughter, or suicide by homicidal maniacs."

"How can a death that results because of a violation of the law really be classified as accidental?"

"When a life is lost because a law is broken, isn't it closer to murder or manslaughter?"

Too often the attitude of the public after a motor vehicle fatality is, "It is too bad, but the person is dead, what can we do about it except to call it accidental?"

We can now understand why so many people fall for high pressure salesmen desiring to install storm windows, awnings, garages or patios. A phone call to us Monday evening offered to install any or all of the above. The caller was unwilling to believe that any home owner, especially an editor, did not need at least one of them.

He was also rather peeved when we said that we believed in patronizing local businessmen who are here to back any guarantees they give.

"How many women can find the head and tail in any financial statement?"

Any woman reader of this paper who thinks she knows as much about finances as her husband has the opportunity this week to prove that point—over half a million dollars worth.

The annual financial reports of the village of Arlington Heights appears in this issue. Study it carefully before Friend Husband comes home and then show him how much you know.

A local employer suggests that firms and tax supported agencies who are in need of additional employees will do well to turn to retired oldsters. He says, "There are many men over 65 who will make ideal employees."

He said, "A man in the retired class often is a better worker than a youngster who thinks more about the salary than the job he is expected to perform."

The claim has been made that there are more stores along the Northwest highway to the square inch in Mt. Prospect than in any neighboring community.

The claim may be right if a yardstck is used. Those Mt. Prospect stores are certainly stretched a long ways.

The claim has also been made that there are more gas stations within a half mile on the highway in Palatine than in any other community.

Arlington Heights claims to be first in the number of shopping centers.

Elk Grove can soon claim more municipalities in its confines than any other northwest township.

About the only thing left to argue about will be which has the most amiable housewives.

Advice to Arlington Heights taxpayers: Stop worrying about the cost of those off-street parking lots.

None of the cost comes out of tax money. It will be the pennies and nickels placed in the meters that will foot the bill.

Here is the big news of the week—there will be no more train switching after 6 p.m.

This is the promise made this week as automatic gates went into service at Arlington Heights.

A tower man will be on duty from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The only problem now left are the passenger trains which pass through Arlington Heights within minutes and seconds of each other between 5:30 and 6:00.

Are we never satisfied?

They tell us an autoist, thrown out of his car at the intersection of Chicago ave, and Plum Grove ave., Palatine, Monday evening, had a bad few minutes when he recovered consciousness. He had been taken to the Shell Oil station.

The first thing he saw when he "awoke" was the Shell sign, except somebody was standing in front of the "S" 'Nuff said.

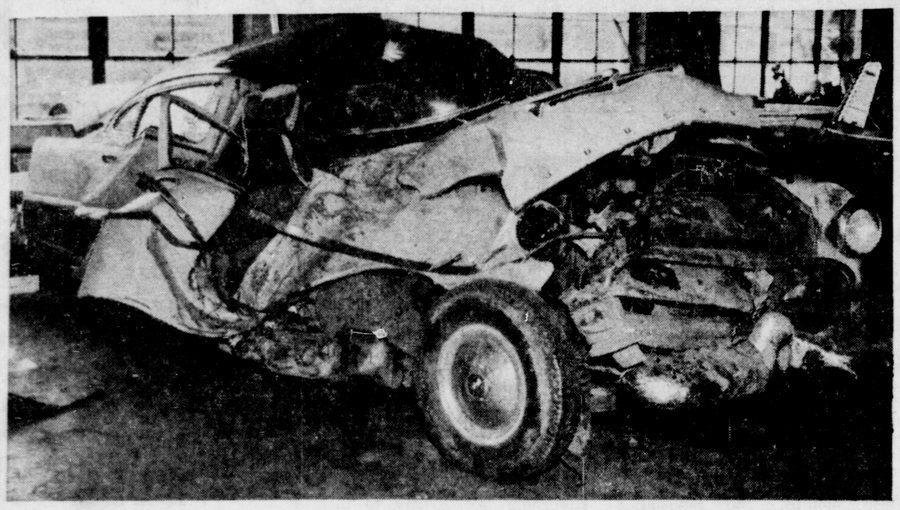
The attitude of the people of Arlington Heights to its schools was demonstrated to the new members of the faculty at the PTA breakfast Wednesday morning.

It was a good job of community selling by our Parent Teachers' Association, which by the way, is credited with the largest membership in Illinois.



ONE PERSON DIED early Saturday morning when this auto failed to negotiate a turn at Kirchhoff and Wilke rds. Killed was Lawrence M. Young, 45, a sales manager living in Prospect Heights. Driver of the car, Frank R. Meyer, 40, also of Prospect Heights, was seriously injured. The car landed 100 feet outside the Arlington village limits, so the village still has had no traffic deaths in 1956. —Staff photo

ELECTRICAL CROSSING PROTECTION became a reality in Arlington Heights Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. when the above snapshot was taken before the multiple switches that operate the new gates. It cost the North Western railroad $115,000. Standing are Herman Henn, assistant engineer; C. J. McPherson, district foreman; Ed Hammerstein and Barney Philips, circuit and lock designers; C. A. Martensen, signal supervisor. Only 2 stations on the Wisconsin division still have manual gates. —Community Camera

Auto Wreck, Cave-In Claim Two Fatalities

Worker Dies After Clay Wall Collapses

An auto accident early Saturday morning at the intersection of Kirchoff and Wilke rds. and a cave-in Monday morning at a sewer construction project in Rolling Meadows took the lives of 2 northwest area residents and seriously injured another.

Killed in the auto accident Saturday about 5:30 a.m. was Lawrence M. Young, 45, of 308 E. Euclid ave., Prospect Heights. He was a passenger in a car driven by Frank R. Meyer, 40, of 209 W. Ridge, Prospect Heights, according to county police. Meyer was seriously injured and is in fair condition in Resurrection hospital.

The Meyer auto was traveling south on Wilke and apparently failed to make a left turn onto Kirchhoff. The car left the road, knocked down a stop sign and struck a tree about 100 feet from the pavement.

Young was dead on arrival at Resurrection hospital. The auto was taken to Arlington Fender and Body shop. Avon Products co. employed both men.

Young is survived by 2 children, Judy K. and Larry Keither, 6 brothers and 1 sister. Funeral services were held Sunday in Des Plaines and a second service and burial were at Pleasant Hill, Mo.

GEORGE E. BACON, 31, of 317 Fairlawn, Round Lake Park, a laborer, died of suffocation and chest injuries Monday morning when he was struck by a large clot of clay which crashed from the wall of a ditch in which he was working.

At a coroner's inquest Tuesday Rolling Meadows Police Chief Cy Campbell said that oxygen and an inhalator failed to revive Bacon after he was pulled from the ditch.

Bacon and Gordon Michaelson of Grayslake, both employed by the Inland Lakes Sewer and Water co., were about to climb out of the 15-foot-deep ditch when the wall collapsed. The heavy clot struck Bacon in the chest.

At the time of the accident there was no shoring in the ditch. A foreman said that the crew was about to install shoring boards when the accident occurred. The foreman and Chief Campbell and other witnesses testified that adequate safety precautions had been taken.

* * *

THE CREW was working at Jay and Grouse Ins. when the fatal accident occurred. A coroner's jury Tuesday ruled the death accidental.

Bacon is survived by his wife Rose and a daughter, Renee, 5.

Mrs. Catherine Smith Ferguson, regional chairman of the committee, will conduct the program at 8 p.m. in Busse school.

A FILM, "Knock On Every Door," will be shown. Produced by the Christophers it is a training film on canvassing and precinct work.

The committee, an independent group comprised of suburbanites interested in the election of Adlai Stevenson as president, is preparing for the fall campaign.

Few Tax Complaints Score With Board

Approximately 3 out of every 10 complaints on 1955 tax bills have been given a reduction, it was announced recently by George M. Keane of the Cook county tax board of appeals.

He said that through August 20 more than 2,500 complaints had been received. Of these, 339 have been heard and 105 reductions amounting to $187,544 in assessment valuation have been granted.

This would amount to approximately $9,000 in tax bills, said Keane.

Area Polio Count Rises To 5 Total

A case of polio reported Monday by Cook county health oficer Dr. John Hall raised the number of polio cases in the northwest area to 5 since January 1.

A 3-YEAR-old Mt. Prospect boy contracted non-paralytic polio July 31 but the county health office only this week learned of the case.

The child spent a week at Cook county contagious hospital and was released August 7. County authorities heard of the case through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, with which the child's mother had contacted.

A SPOKESMAN for Dr. Hall said that apparently the child is now at home and well on the way to complete recovery. The spokesman said the boy had received a single anti-polio vaccination.

Three of the 5 area cases have been in Arlington Heights and 2 in Mt. Prospect. Three cases have occurred since the start of the polio season June 1.

Bus Schedules

School bus schedules for district 25, St. James, and the Wayside schools, are printed in full in this issue.

Thieves Take 40 Cases Of Floor Tile From School

Theft of 40 cases of floor tile from the construction project at Arlington high school was reported to Arlington Heights police Friday.

Harold Cichowski of Du-Al Floor Co., Inc., of Chicago told police that the tile, worth $300, was stolen between August 17 and August 22.

POLICE WERE called to an apartment at 501 W. Euclid Saturday morning. They found Mrs. Belle Johnson lying on a davenport and she was pronounced dead by a doctor. A cousin, Edward Callahan of Hinsdale, was notified.

A CRANE left unattended at the construction site of the new junior high school, Dryden pl. and Miner st. was the target of vandals with BB guns Friday. Between 2 and 4 p.m., reported the Keno Construction Co. of Highland Park, someone broke 9 windows, shot out 2 dials in the crane of the cab.

O'Hare City Clears First Hurdle For Incorporation

O'Hare City cleared its first hurdle on the path to incorporation this week.

Vincent Nunamaker, head of the incorporation campaign, said Tuesday that filing of petitions requesting an election on incorporation would be completed during the latter part of this week, possibly today.

Only 50 signatures were needed on the petitions. But 79 registered voters signed.

County Judge Otto Kerner will set a date for the election within 30 days.

THE PROPOSED city covers 4 square miles, mostly farmland, in the southeast section of Elk Grove township. Roughly, the boundaries are Dempster st., Busse and Mt. Prospect rds. and a line half a mile north of Devon ave.

A head count established that the area has more than the 1,000 population needed to form a city under Illinois law.

Incorporation was initially suggested publicly at the first meeting of the Elk Grove School District Men's association late in May. Five meetings since then have created considerable favorable sentiment for the idea but there has been some opposition, principally from a handful of farmers.

The men's association will wage an aggressive campaign in favor of incorporation. Its founder, school Principal Ernest Cavallo, is also an active backer.

MRS. PAULINE NOELLE of Biesterfield rd. was identified as the person who suggested the name of O'Hare City. The name was enthusiastically received at a general meeting last week.

Mrs. Noelle will be presented with a check for $25 by Paddock Publications, sponsor of the name-picking contest ,at the next meeting September 26.

Plan Commission Rule Sets Restriction On Absentees

Attendance at plan commission meetings, like attendance at Sunday school, has to be regular if anyone is to benefit.

So decrees a new set of rules and procedure adopted Monday night by the Arlington Heights plan commission.

Included is a provision that "when a member is absent from more than one-half of the regular meetings during any given 3-month period, he shall be obliged to tender his resignation in writing."

ACTUALLY, only the village board, which appoints commission members, can request resignations.

Of the 13 members, seldom have more than 7 attended. Usually it's the same few that do attend. Commission head Evan E. Olmstead pointed out that regular attendance would enable the group to function more smoothly and lessen the number of repetitious discussions.

Under the new rule, members will be excused for serious reasons.

OLDSTEAD read a letter he has sent to the village board recommending changes in the layout of the proposed village parking lot on S. State rd. The commission feels that diagonal parking stalls should be widened from 8 feet to 8 feet 6 inches and aisles from 10 feet to 12 feet 6 inches. The letter noted that the changes would reduce the number of cars parked but would provide easier parking and more adequate circulation in the lot.

Downtown Area Will Soon Get A Loading Zone

The Arlington Heights downtown business district will soon have its first loading zone.

The idea was recently approved by village trustees and the facility will be located on the east side of Dunton ave. between Davis and Campbell sts.

VILLAGE manager F. R. Buechner said that the 3 parallel parking spaces now in the block would provide space for unloading of 2 trucks. Buechner added that the loading zone would be in the nature of an experiment and would remain on Dunton only if the location proved satisfactory.

Trustees at the time of passage pointed out that trucks would no longer have to double park on Dunton or Campbell or park in the crosswalk of the intersection of the 2 streets. There had been complaints that trucks parked too near the intersection had obscured motorists' vision.

St. Peter School Expects Record High Enrollment

St. Peter Lutheran school in Arlington Heights will reopen September 4 with the largest enrollment in its 92-year history.

Adolph W. Obermann, school principal, said that 450 pupils had registered and that others had been turnd away. Last September the school opened with 417 enrolled.

Obermann said that the school will have the same number of classrooms and teachers available as last year and that class size, averaging over 40, is already larger than is desirable.

THE SCHOOL year will open with a worship service at 9 a.m. Tuesday, preached by Rev. Luther Stephan. Classes will begin after the service and continue for a full day.

Children have been asked to bring their lunch during the first week of school as the hot lunch program will become effective on Monday, September 10.

John Hoffschneider, a graduate of Concordia Teachers college, Seward, Nebraska, has been named to the teaching staff of 10, replacing Eugene Brandt, who has accepted a post at Chicago Luther high school.

Elk Grove School Will Open Doors For 500 Children

School doors will swing open Tuesday to welcome 500 children into Elk Grove school. Principal Ernest Cavallo said this week that the pupil registration total had already increased by 60 over the 1955-56 figure.

Cavallo said that the bus schedule for this year would be the same as last year until further notice.

The principal also reminded parents that classes will last only until 1 p.m. Tuesday and children are not to bring lunches.

TO HANDLE the new flock of children and relieve overcrowding, the school will have 5 additional classrooms this year. An auditorium was cut up to make 3 new rooms and an all-purpose room remodeled into 2 rooms. Completion of the new rooms is expected by Tuesday.

A new auditorium is being constructed at the rear of the school at a cost of $80,000.

John Hoffschneider of Waco, Neb., was installed as a teacher in St. Peter Lutheran school last Sunday. The ritual took place in both the 8 a.m. as well as in the 10:45 a.m. services.

Convention Ballyhoo Spurs Area Voter Registrations

There was more to the political conventions of the preceding 2 weeks than ballyhoo and boredom.

Local authorities taking voter registrations were the first to testify this week that the serious messages of the 2 conventions did succeed in stimulating citizens into political activity.

Since the conventions began, noted Arlington village clerk Carl H. Weinrich, the number of voters registering daily has shot up to an average of 25.

MRS. DOROTHY Hauff, registering voters living in the unincorporated sections of Wheeling township, also remarked on increased poliitcal interest reflected in more registrations.

Persons living within the limits of Arlington Heights may register at the village hall up to September 17 inclusive. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to noon Saturdays. Special evening registration hours are 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14.

Mrs. Hauff is registering voters daily at her home, 8 E. Euclid ave., Arlington Heights. She said she would appreciate a phone call (CL. 3-9314) to her residence beforehand. Mrs. Hauff will be at the township office, 104 E. Northwest hwy., September 14, 7 to 9 p.m. and September 15, 9 a.m. to noon, to accept registrations.

THERE WILL be a general registration day Tuesday, Oct. 9, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., at every precinct in the county. A list of precinct polling places will be published before that date. The county clerk in Chicago will register voters daily until October 9.

Residence requirements for voters are 1 year in the state, 90 days in the county and 30 days in the precinct prior to the November 6 election.

Construction Delays School For Few Days

One thousand Arlington Heights youngsters attending St. James Catholic school may get a short reprieve from classes when school begins next week.

An 8-room addition is nearly ready for the pupils but classes may not be held Thursday and Friday in order to give workmen time to put finishing touches on the building.

THE REV. Robert A. Reicher, assistant pastor, said that children will be told Wednesday, when they will report for class assignments, whether they are to return Thursday for classes.

The 1,075 students are being divided into 5 groups, each to report for an hour Wednesday.

An additional 120 children will enter the school this year. Four more classrooms will be available with the completion of the $170,-000 brick, 8-room addition. Two classrooms in a former church building are being converted into a gymnasium and 2 more rooms have become a library and nurses' room.

Fourteen nuns and 7 lay teachers will staff the school. Principal is Sister Mary Agnetta.

They will be held on stage at the junior high school, September 3 and 4 at 8 p.m.

Village Theatre president, Alfred Wilcox, said: "This is an opportunity for anyone in this area who is interested in little theatre work to become acquainted with a fine group at the beginning of the season.

"Our group is primarily interested in producing high calibre plays for the entertainment of the community and aiding in the promotion of our community's many worthwhile service groups such as the PTA, our sponsors."

Round 'n About Westgate

Cub Scout News

Yes, good news ahead. Westgate will have its own cub scout pack here this year. Bob Herigodt, cubmaster, of 1513 Fremont had the cub scouts circulate forms early in June asking what parents thought of having a pack, wanting to know how many boys would be eligible. In the event anyone did not receive such a form, have lost it or forgot to return it, Bob is asking that parents of boys 8 years or older and wishing to join cub scouts call him at once at Cl. 3-4660. Boys are eligible upon reaching their eighth birthday or who will become 8 in the months following the opening of school. This year the scouts will follow a planned program, being educational as well as full of fun. Volunteers are still badly needed - fathers to become den dads and mothers to work on committees. There is a training course available at the high school starting in September for all those interested or for those who feel they are not properly qualified to lead a group. Volunteers are urged to help in this organization. Call Bob for any further information needed and also to get those boys registered.

Vacation Trips

Vacationing here and there has just ended for Shirley and Howard Pollitz, 11 Reuter, and their 2 children. The family drove to Milwaukee and then took the excursion boat to Muskegon. They then drove to Ludington and ferried back to Milwaukee. A few days were also spent in New Salem, Ill., where they visited Lincoln's tomb and his home.

A 4-day trip to Cleveland, Ohio was the recent pleasure of Bert and Andy Graczyk, 1417 Fremont, and 3 of their children. Highlight of the trip was a christening August 19, at which Andy was godfather to Gregory Alan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Switaj of Euclid, Ohio. A party was held after the christening for relatives and friends. While in Cleveland the Graczyks visited Tina and Dan Hegyan, formerly of Fremont st., and found them enjoying their new home in a community similar to Westgate.

Karen Vork has just returned home from attending the High School Conference camp of Presbyterian churches of the Chicago area. A week at Lake Forest college was the site of the camp. Karen is the daughter of Jay and John Vork, 415 Yale.

Cynthia Ann Nicholson, daughter of Mary and Gus, 35 Reuter, was baptized August 18 in St. Basil church in Chicago. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. George Kazanas of Chicago. Her mother, Mary, was also baptized the same day and had the same sponsors. A dinner for 45 close relatives was held following the ceremony.

Susan Lynne Clark made her first appearance August 18 in Resurrection hospital, Chicago. She weighed in at 6 pounds 8 ounces. Susan is the first child of Janet and Bob Clark, 14 Yale. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Olson of Duluth, Minn., and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Clark of Milwaukee.

Andrea Graczyk, 1417 Fremont, became 5 August 18. August 25 a party was held in her honor and her guests included Linda and Cheryl Huster, Maureen and Barbara Callahan, Sandy Hannaford and Kathy Segal, along with her 6 siters and brothers.

Also celebrating a birthday this week was Alan Van Bladel, who became 8 years old August 25. Alan is the son of Esther and Anton, 108 Reuter.

Deborah Anne Tierney celebrated her first birthday August 17. For such a small girl, 3 parties were held in her honor, with Debbie being more interested in the wrappings than in the presents. Watch her change as the years go by. Debbie is the daughter of Luann and Tom Tierney of 101 Yale.

August 26 Clarence Wrobel, 1404 Fremont, celebrated his birthday. Saturday his wife, Phyllis, had Fred and Arlene Hauth and Carol and Bill Franck over for the evening for a small birthday celebration.

This 'N That

The Pollitz household has been host to out of town visitors as of late. Their friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. Battista and 3 children of Wichita Falls, Texas, spent 2 days here in Westgate. They were then visited by Mr. and Mrs. Urban Jahnke and their 2 sons from Oklahoma City, Okla.

Fifteen couples in for an evening of dancing and buffet supper marked the 15th wedding anniversary of Renee and Larry Dieter, 15 S. Yale, Thursday, Aug. 23.

Again this reporter has had numerous complaints from residents about dogs running loose, and has taken it upon herself to call several owners of dogs seen running loose most of the day, but she would suggest as the Association did in spring, that if the dogs continue to run loose, call the police and report the incident to them. There is a fine for dogs not being kept on a leash and this may help solve the problem.

Eastwood Events

Association News

The officers and directors of the Eastwood association met at the home of President Norm Hoym August 21. The purpose of the meeting was to map out the forthcoming year's activity and it was decided the monthly meetings of the association will be held, as in the past, on the first Tuesday of each month except for the months of September, November and January, when conflicting dates make the first Tuesdays inconvenient. The meeting will be held on the second Tuesday of those months. The association suggests that members mark their calendars now and reserve these nights for attendance at this meeting of friends and neighbors.

The first Eastwood association meeting date is September 11. It will be held at 8 p.m. at the recreation park fieldhouse. There will be a business meeting and a special speaker will be present with a topical message. After the meeting, coffee and cake is the order of business. There is a fine opportunity to meet and greet neighbors, new and old.

Canasta Group

Eastwoodites have expressed an interest in a canasta group along the lines of the bridge bunch. Could be that such a group might be organized along similar lines and join the bridge group at the end of the season for the annual party. Mrs. Lorraine Gustafson, CL 3-5717, is standing by to organize such a group and will be glad to discuss it with any interested person.

Dutch Elm Disease

The Dutch elm disease has been discovered in Eastwood. Trees have been sprayed or destroyed and at this writing there seem to be no trees in Eastwood that are diseased. Please inform the association of any tree indicating Dutch elm disease.

Bridge Tournament

Good news for Gorenites and Culbertsonians. The bridge tournament kicks off in September. The bridge committee, like the U.S. mail, has gone forward courageously, in spite of heat, humidity, aphids and rising taxes and has come up with a schedule, copies of which will be in contestants' hands within the week. A sneak preview indicates that hosts and hostesses for September are the Barnes, Cockrells, Hoyms, G. Johnsons, Pattons, Raaschs and Yunkers.

New Residents

From Chicago last Friday to 630 N. Dryden came Bill and Naomi Edgerton and 7-year-old son, Robert. Mr. Edgerton is in the sales division of Garden City Manufacturing Co.

New residents at 401 N. Dryden are Conley and Madlyn Stewart and children, Sharon, 13, and Conley Jr., 9. The Stewarts moved to Eastwood from Houston, Texas. Mr. Stewart is employed by the engineering and architectural firm of Johnson and Johnson.

Recuperate

Recuperating at her home, 641 N. Beverley, is Mrs. Kenneth Manchee. Shirley returned home last Saturday from St. Francis hospital, where she was confined for 10 days after surgery.

Hank and Bee Wallace, 718 N. Dryden, celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary August 23 and entertained a group of relatives and friends at their home last Saturday night.

Visiting at the home of Diane Rogers, 501 N. Lincoln lane, last week was friend Miss Jane Purcell of Ottawa.

Returned

The Wally Ellertson family returned early last week to their home at 903 E. Euclid after a 10-day vacation spent at Ellison Bay, Wis.

Returning last Friday to their home, 201 N. Brighton, was the Ed Neas family after a pleasant 2-week vacation in Gatlinburg, Tenn. On the way back, a stopover in Knoxville at the home of Ed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Neas, was enjoyed.

Eight-year-old David Manchee returned last week after spending a week at Lake Geneva Youth camp.

The Oscar Johnsons, 647 N. Beverly, returned last Thursday after a week's vacation in northern Wisconsin and Minnesota. They report the weather was good, fishing "ungood."

Off for a weekwend visit to Niagara Falls were the Nelsons, 409 N. Douglas. Earlier in the week Wil, Terry and son, John, spent a day at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton, played golf and took in a few of the sights of local vacation spots.

Russell Walters and son, Rusty, return Friday after spending 2 weeks in Minaki, Canada. Accompanying them on the trip is Russ' father, E. J. Walters of Arlington Heights. Young Rusty will have some real fish stories to tell after this trip.

Mary Elizabeth Cockrell, 11-year-old daughter of Matt and Betty Cockrell, returned this week after an air trip to Detroit, where she spent a week and visited her friend Diane Fellows. Unincorporated Areas Continue Building Boom

During July, 188 building permits were issued in the unincorporated areas of the northwest townships of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Schaumburg, Palatine and Barrington.

Schaumburg township, with unincorporated Hoffman Estates rapidly being built up, had the second highest total in the county. Its 79 permits during the month placed it far ahead of such established villages as Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights. Schaumburg valuation was $1,451,200.

OTHER TOWNSHIP figures were: Elk Grove, 43; Palatine, 31; Wheeling, 30, and Barrington, 5. Presumably, most of the permits were for single family residences, although county figures were not broken down.

Highest figure in the county was for Stickney, 84 permits.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Nesuhi Ertugen won fame as the program director of Good Time Jazz Records on the West Coast, featuring artists like the great drummer Shelly Manne. Now having moved across the country to head up Atlantic Records, he shows the same verve and imagination for programming unusual jazz for your delectation on discs.

Two of these have just come to hand, so let's stack them on our Miracord XA-100 three-speed changer and hear some real hi-fi as applied to vivacious jazz. One is "Here is Phineas — the Piano Artistry of Phineas Newborn Jr." (Atlantic 1235), a 23-year-old negro artist from Memphis, whose father was an outstanding drummer and band leader there. Phineas started to study piano when he was six, and in high school took up trumpet, tuba, baritone and French horn, while in the Army he acquired skill on baritone, tenor and alto sax. His brother Calvin (who plays guitar on this disc) shows great talent as well. The rest of the combo for this recording comprised drummer Kenny Clarke and bassist Oscar Pettiford, both top-notchers.

THE DISC starts off with "Barbados," a classic by Charlie Parker, turns to the lovely "All the Things You Are" and "The More I See You." "Dahoud" and "Newport Blues" show his remarkable technique balanced with inventive jazz rhythms and feeling, and the pert "Afternoon in Paris" winds up as excellent a session as you will hear from any jazz pianist before the public. Gorgeous crisp sound, too!

The other Atlantic offering is "Pithecanthropus Erectus, the Charlie Mingus Jazz Workshop" (Atlantic 1237). Mingus is a gifted bass player who composes with mood and impressionism in mind, but never overlooks the basic beat of good jazz. The title of the album — which has four numbers and is a sort of suite — refers to the first primeval man to stand erect and his pride in it; the music suggests a buoyant ardor. "A Foggy Day," by the brothers Gershwin, is next, and then two more of Mingus' own numbers, "Profile of Jackie" and "Love Chant." Jackie McLean handles alto sax beautifully, and J. R. Monterose, one of the best tenor sax men in the business has some gorgeous solos in "Love Chant," with Mal Waldron's stylish pianistics and Willie Jones making those drums perk you up. Lush hi-fi sound. A highly entertaining disc which has a lot to say and says it well! (G

Make Carports Serve Double

Carports not only give a home more sweeping lines when the roof sections are carefully designed, but they offer a wide variety of additional storage space.

One of the cleverest ideas of the season is the use of a free standing storage cabinet in two-car carports for a divider wall.

When designed in the same wood as the rest of the carport, either Douglas fir or western red cedar, these carport storage sections can become an attractive addition to most homes.

They offer a multitude of storage room. The fisherman-hunter can keep his more odorous gear out of the house, yet under lock and key. The same for golfers and other sports-minded men.

To give maximum utility, most of these storage walls are designed with sliding doors, to protect cars from bumping and scratching.

Of course, the storage walls, whether along the outside wall of the carport, or used as a divider section, should be finished to match the remainder of the exterior siding of the home, whether stained, painted, oiled or left natural. (DL

Barbara Arnold Is Now Mrs. Alan G. Johnson

South church, Community Baptist in Mount Prospect was the scene of a double ring wedding ceremony August 18 in which Miss Barbara Caryl Arnold and Alan Glenn Johnson were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Case Pendleton, 302 Prospect Manor, Mount Prospect, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Johnson, 405 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights.

The ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. in full candlelight with the Rev. Edwin I. Stevens officiating. Every other pew was marked with ribbons, fernery and flowers and a basket of greens and flowers also decorated the altar.

Judy Piemenschneider of Paxton, sorority sister of the bride, was soloist singing "I Love Thee," "Love Never Faileth" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. H. C. Taylor of Des Plaines was organist.

Dupioni silk, hand beaded with pearls and irridescent sequins fashioned her bridal gown. The gown was made with sweetheart neckline with alencon lace appliqued under the beading on the bodice. Her mitts were also beaded and a matching headpiece of beading and lace held her fingertip veil in place. Her bridal bouquet was of fuji mums. Mr. Pendelton gave his step-daughter in marriage.

Miss Joan Groth, wearing a rose taffeta dress with lace, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Louise Werner of Waukegan and Judy Peterson of Mount Prospect, both sorority sisters of the bride, and Miss Ruthann Johnson of Arlington Heights, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's gown, made with full gathered skirts, V necklines and Grecian bodices. They carried red roses and wore ivy headpieces. Their gloves were Parisian kid embroidered with roses and were brought from Paris by the bride's mother just before the wedding.

The bridegroom's brother, Warren Johnson, was best man and ushers were Bob Dallstream, Wally Enright, Art Nauman, Bill Philips, Jim Goodwin and Rudy Siegert, fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

Champagne, hors d'oeures, cake and coffee were served to 250 guests at Itasca country club where Mrs. Pendleton received in a beige lace and silk organza dress. The bridegroom's mother was in light blue lace and silk organza and both mothers wore pink hats and corsages of pink roses.

Mr. Johnson and his bride honeymooned at Eagle River and since August 27 have been at home at 1106 S. Euclid, Champaign, Ill. The new Mrs. Johnson was graduated from Arlington Heights high school and the University of Illinois and now teaches in the Champaign elementary school system. Mr. Johnson was also graduated from Arlington Heights high school, attended Virginia Military institute and the University of Illinois and is now a senior in the school of commerce, majoring in finance and banking at the state university. The bride is affiliated with the Delta Gamma sorority and the bridegroom with Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Des Plaines Magistrate Sets Precedent; Asks Pay Cut!

Albert Sengstock, Des Plaines police judge, doesn't believe he's entitled to $100 an hour for presiding over the city's traffic court.

Thats' how much he has been earning since the city several weeks ago installed radar quipment and the weekly haul of speeders soared from half a dozen to a high of 143 during the second week in August.

So the civic-minded judge has requested that he be paid a yearly salary of $3,600. Under the present fee system, he receives a portion of court costs.

The change would bring additional thousands of dollars yearly into the city coffers. This exciting prospect pleases aldermen. They have indicated that they will gladly make the change and an appropriate ordinance is now being drafted.

When the ordinance is finally passed, Des Plaines will be the first of Chicago area suburbs, it is believed, to put its magistrate on a salary. According to the city attorney, bar associations, to which most attorneys belong, heartily second the idea.

SENGSTOCK requested the change in a letter to aldermen a short time ago. He noted that his income had jumped from a weekly average of less than $50 before the introduction of radar to about $300 at the present. The judge is legally entitled to that much as he assesses each convicted traffic law violator court costs of from $3 to $6.

With an average of 100 violators coming before him during the 3-hour Monday morning court session, the judge realized more than $300 for his time on the bench. That's after he paid salaries of his assistants in the court.

On an annual basis, Sengstock stood to gain $10,000 to $15,000. Now the major part of the proceeds of the electronic marvel will instead probably go to offset Des Plaines large budget deficit.

MOTORISTS from Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and other northwest communities are apparently slow in catching on to the crackdown on speeders that began about the first of the month.

The number being caught is rising weekly. A majority of speeders, however, are from more distant areas, according to one survey.

Des Plaines' Judge Sengstock is the only northwest area magistrate to request a reduction in his income, although most other local communities also pay magistrates on a percentage-of-costs basis.

No other village is presently apprehending anywhere near the same number of speeders as Des Plaines. (B.

Newlyweds To Reside In Bloomington, Ill.

After Sept. 1, Bloomington, Ill. will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Watson who were married August 25 in Frankfort, Mich. The bride is the former Nancy Jeanne Coffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Coffman, 1113 Harvard rd., Arlington Heights, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Watson of Bridgeport, Mich.

The ceremony took place at 3 p.m. in the Congregational church of Frankfort with the Rev. J. C. Bockoven officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a white silk princess gown with pearls trimming the rounded neckline. The gown was waltz length and was made with short sleeves. She wore a halo with a shoulder-length back veil and carried a colonial bouqquet of pink sweetheart roses with stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Coffman was her sister's only attendant and wore a waltz-length gown of yellow silk shantung fashioned princess style with small shoulder straps and sash. She wore a braided matching headband and caried a colonial bouquet of small yellow centered pom pons.

Best man to the bridegroom was his brother, Arthur S. Watson. Ushers were the bride's brother, Carl D. Coffman, and Ralph L. Grueber of Traverse City, Mich.

The bride's mother chose a sheath dress of pale green and a corsage of yellow centered pom pons with stephanotis while the bridegroom's mother chose a cocoa brown linen dress with a corsage of yellow pom pons with stephanotis.

A reception was held in the church parlors after which the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Elkhart Lake, Wis.

Mrs. Watson studied at Illinois Wesleyan university where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority. Mr. Watson served 4 years in the navy and studied at Adrian college, Michigan state university, and is now a student at Illinois Wesleyan university in Bloomington.

New Cases Of Dutch Elm Disease In Arlington Hts.

Two more confirmed and 1 probably case of Dutch elm disease were detected in Arlington Heights last week, raising the village total to 5 cases.

The 3 latest cases were located by nurseryman Raymond W. Gosch. Two of the trees were on private property on a vacant lot next to 202 N. Beverly lane in Eastwood and a third in the parkway at 214 N. Beverly lane.

All of the trees were cut down and burned Saturday, with the village cutting the parkway tree and owner Paul Peterson, a builder, removing the trees on his lot.

GOSCH SAID that a state laboratory report confirmed that Peterson's trees were infected. Gosch added that the third tree had the same wilt symptoms as the 2 infected trees.

Monday morning Gosch completed spraying more than 200 trees in the 7-block area bounded by Douglas ave., Dryden pl., Euclid ave. and Miner st. The village hired his spraying crew for the job.

Other cases of Dutch elm disease were affected a Scarsdale tree and a tree on S. State rd.

TRUSTEES ARE expected to authorize purchase of equipment to check the spread of the disease at the board meeting September 4. Low bidder on a Bean "Rotomist" sprayer, a type used by many villages in the northwest area, is Paul Burdette of Lombard.

Three firms submitted bids on spray equipment, all bids being for a Bean sprayer.

Bids were submitted by a number of firms on chemicals for spraying. F. R. Buechner, village manager, indicated Friday, however, that the village can obtain chemicals at lesser cost by direct purchase from the village of Winnetka. Winnetka will sell Arlington Heights up to 2,000 gallons of DDT spray for a price based on purchase of 4,000 gallons, Buechner said.

Trustees are also expected to accept a low bid on tree sanitation work at the next meeting.

VILLAGE AUTHORITIES have urged private citizens to have dead wood removed from elms on their lots. Dead elm wood is the favorite breeding place of the European bark beetle, carrier of the disease. Removal of dead wood and spraying with DDT are equally important in combating the blight.

Buechner indicated that village-sponsored programs of sanitation and spraying could get under way quickly once equipment is purchased and a trimming contract awarded. (AF

Find Blight In Mt. Prospect

Mt. Prospect, up to last week, was the only northwest area community to escape Dutch elm disease. But the village's first case, an infected tree in a parkway at Evergreen and Williams, was confirmed by a state laboratory report returned last week.

The tree was cut and burned and village officials are reportedly considering plans for a control program.

Des Plaines, Arlington Heights and Palatine previously have detected cases of the tree-killing blight and each has a control program planned or under way.

Final Tax Rate Election Sat.

The third and final election of a series of 3 elections to validate the existing maximum tax rates of School District 25 will be held Saturday.

Voting will be from noon to 7 p.m. in the junior high school at South and Chestnut.

THE BOARD of education made the decision to hold this series of elections to remove certain questions regarding technicalities of previous elections.

Here is a run-down on the things we have: pencils, erasers, crayons, paints, paste, all kinds of paper, tablets, loose-leaf paper, notebooks, 2 and 3 ring binders, rulers and lunch-boxes. There are lots of things I didn't mention, but you'll find them at either of our stores.

Marian and I know what a problem it is to get the kids started to school, as our boys are growing up fast, and it keeps you jumping to keep up with them. We tried to think of the things you will need for all occasions, and I personally pride myself on having a good memory. Let's see what did Marian tell me to bring home for Greg — umm, something for school — can't think of it right now — and what's this cotton-pickin' string going around my finger?

Dems Slate Suburbanite In New Country Vote Appeal

Democratic committeemen from outside Chicago won their fight Monday to have a suburbanite slated to fill 1 of 3 judgeship vacancies on the November ballot.

It was the first judicial recognition the Democratic party has given the country towns.

THE DEMOCRATIC county central committee named Henry W. Dieringer, Barrington attorney, as the organization candidate for Circuit court vacancy left by the death of Judge John Touhy.

Dieringer, Democratic committeeman for Barrington township, has never before been a candidate for office. Before the decision to slate him was reached, suburban committeemen pointed out to their city colleagues that there was no candidate from outside Chicago on the Democrat's county ticket.

Oak Park township committeeman John Boyle agreed that Democrats should slate a suburbanite, but added that "Even with an all-Chicago slate, the Democrats have been doing better in suburbs."

IN OAK PARK, declared Boyle, Republican margins are decreasing as more Democrats move out of Chicago but retain their affiliation with the Democratic party.

Democrats this year are exerting special efforts to woo fresh suburban support for county, state, and national candidates. (AF

Rapp's 97 Plus

DAN RAPP

Yeah, I know, this is a crazy name for a column, but I think it will make some sense if you get the message. Am I coming through?

"97 plus" could only pertain to one thing, and that's gasoline, that we have. At Rapp's station we pump the finest, highest octane gas available in the northwest area and at LESS MONEY.

Yes, at Rapp's you can save about three cents a gallon on your gas, and not sacrifice QUALITY. Our business is selling Gasoline and we have the best and AT LESS.

Come in and give us a try, and, remember if we forget to clean your windshield, you get a quart of oil FREE. See you at the pumps.

Blast Plant Is Hailed For Safety

Looking for a nice safe place to work? Try a high explosives plant!

The National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," just off the press, shows that the 1953-55 average accident frequency rate for high explosives plants is less than a third of the average rate for all industries. Plants manufacturing powder and fuses are also far below the average for all industries.

Apparently the very nature of the work makes everybody concerned more careful, the Council said. (B7

This Will Be Year Of 'Firsts' For Adults At Arlington High

Amid the clatter and confusion as workmen hurry to complete the new $1,250,000 addition to Arlington high school, the adult education division this week is quietly making preparations for the start of classes Sept. 24.

This will be a year of "firsts" for adult education at the school, according to John Schaff ,director of the program for the past 6 years.

Leading the list is the first college-credit course to be offered at the high school. It will be a course on audio-visual aids to education aimed primarily at teachers and taught in cooperation with the department of education of the University of Illinois. It will carry both graduate and undergraduate credit.

In the spring a second college education course will be scheduled, for graduate credit only. It will be on curriculum development and will also be for 16 weeks. Th university will provide library services for both classes.

Other adult education classes not available previously in the area will offer instruction on the Hammond organ for the novice, craft work in creative gifts, a discussion course on "Great Issues in Education," and a course of book-reviews.

A final but important "first" is that the 33 classrooms and other facilities in the addition now being completed will be available.

NEARLY 60 CLASSES, 10 more than last year, will get under way the week of September 24. Bulletins with a complete schedule will be mailed next week to 19,000 homes in the high schol district. Newcomers may obtain a copy by phoning the school.

Registration is by mail or at the school from 7 to 9 p.m. September 17, 18 and 19. Most courses consist of classes one night a week for 10 weeks and cost about $5.

Schaff said that his staff anticipates an evening enrollment of 1,800 for the fall semester, compared with 1,400 last fall and 1,360 last spring. Drawing students from as far as Barrington and Libertyville, the Arlington program is 1 of the biggest in the northwest suburban area.

FOR ONE of the new courses, a series of 7 book reviews, Schaff has secured a critic known throughout the Midwest, Purdie Nelson Meissner. She is a reviewer for the Chicago Tribune book supplement and has given reviews for many clubs.

A graduate of Northwest university school of speech, Mrs. Meissner, has also acted in stock companies with Charles Coburn, Dennis King and Cornelia Otis Skinner. Her talks will be presented on the second Monday of each month.

COURSES CARRYING high school credit will also be given this fall in the field of English, and possibly mathematics and American history. Detailed information on credit courses may be secured by contacting the adult education office at Arlington high school.

A new class scheduled for the Fall will offer instruction in the Hammond organ. This will be a course for persons with no previous musical experience. Students will be given a group approach to the reading of melodic lines for the right hand, the memorizing of fundamental chords for the left hand and the accompanying bass pattern for the left foot.

Entitled Organ Playing for Fun, the class will enable beginner to play simple melodic tunes satisfactorily after a few lessons.

A Hammond spinet organ will be on consignment at the school and practice facilities will be available. Plans are also under way for the consignment of a concert model Hammond organ for more advanced work if there is a demand. This course is planned for the spring semester.

ANOTHER NEW CLASS will offer craft work in creative gifts and decorations, to be taught by Mrs. Ralph Van Petten. Students will amke items for gifts or decorations as suggested by other class members as well as those offered by the instructor.

Another of the classes to be offered for the first time this year is a discussion program developed and sponsored by the Great Books Foundation on Great Issues in Education. The enrollment fee includes a set of readings used as the basis for discussion. It will afford parents, teachers and all adults in the community an occasion for constructive communication about education issues.

WITH THE ADDITION of 2 new art rooms, facilities for both ceramics and for the creative art classes will be increased to take care of the rapidly increasing demand for art classes. (B7

Congressman, Your Secret Is Revealed

Ever wonder why so many people want to be congressmen and senators?

Well, aside from the pay and prestige there may be another important reason.

The District of Columbia is one of the safest places in the country to work and drive a motor vehicle. The death rate there last year from accidents occurring at work was 1.4 per 100,000 population, and the motor vehicle death rate was 11.6 — as compared with 8.6 and 23.3 for the nation.

ACCORDING to the 1956 edition of "Accident Facts," the statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, which is just off the press, Wyoming had the country's highest work accident death rate — 22.2 per 100,000 population. New Mexico had the highest motor vehicle death rate, 48.7. (B10

Start Work Early For Fall Play At Arlington High

Work on the fall play at Arlington high school will begin almost as soon as the doors open for school. Tryouts are being scheduled for the first week of school.

The fall play is open to all students, according to Douglas K. Murphy, director.

Tryouts will be held next week Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday at 3:05 p.m. in room 228.

The play wil be presented Friday and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20 on the stage of the old gymnasium.

FOR THE TRYOUT session, students will be given an opportunity to read from a variety of material. The sessions will be informal and a student will be allowed to try out for more than 1 part.

Arlington high students will have more opportunities to be in plays than in previous years.

A bill of one-act plays is scheduled for Dec. 15, followed by a 1-act entry in the district contest in February. Another 3-act play will be presented in the spring on April 4 and 5.

All plays are open to all students. Applications for backstage assignments will be taken during the week following tryouts for the fall play.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

"Duty" is a nasty word, not much in vogue these days. Yet, inescapably, each of us has his share of duties in life, and try though we may to escape them, they remain our obligations as long as we live.

In early life, these duties are limited to those of the child toward his parent, toward himself, and to his church. As a child grows older, more and more duties become his natural obligations. Early teaching of children to know and fulfill their duties and obligations help them throughout life. Learning to perfrom one's duties naturally in early youth helps build the habit of accepting responsibiliay for greater duties which come with advancing age.

A CHLD who has not learned to perform his duties without questioning will accept further duties and responsibilities as they come along.

When a boy or girl is through school, he has to find his place in the industrial, business or professional world. If, while he is young, he was allowed to shirk his duties, he will have developed an inner rebellion to responsibility and when he goes out into the workaday world, will not make a good, dependable worker. His marriage, too, may not be a success for the same reason. He will not want to shoulder the responsibilities of marriage, the purchase of a home, financial, economic and aolm obligations as he should.ssdl, moral obligations as he should. Rebellion to duty and responsibility will have become as natural as eating and sleeping and contribute to ill health and discontent.

NO GREAT leader ever developed from a man or woman who refuses to accept duty and responsibility. No child reared to shirk spiritual, physical and moral duties can ever hope to live a happy, contented life. Only when a person accepts his duties and responsibilities and takes pride in their accomplishment can he have an inner feeling of confidence and peace of mind. (G

Suburban Schools Face New Classroom Overloads

Suburbia's little red schoolhouses will be bulging at the seams more than ever when classes resume next week.

Helping somewhat to relieve half day sessions and crowded classrooms will be $26,876,000 worth of new space in elementary and high schools.

Nevertheless, in northwest suburban districts alone there will be 89 classes on half day sessions, and 20 rented or temporary rooms.

School district 15 in Palatine accounts for 51 of the half day sessions and 9 of the temporary rooms.

SIXTY NEW classrooms at a cost of $1,037,000 have been constructed for northwest area districts.

Cook county superintendent of schools Noble J. Puffer revealed this week that preliminary enrollment figures show 15,520 more elementary school pupils this fall than last. This is an increase of 11 per cent for the suburbs.

Public high schools will have an enrollment hike of 15 per cent or 6,955 more pupils than last year.

Preliminary elementary enrollment figures now total 159,414 compared with 143,944 in 1955.

HIGH SCHOOL enrollments should total 53,766 compared with last year's 46,771. For the first time, total suburban enrollments passed well over the 200,000 mark.

Declared Puffer: "The building boom in Cook county has accounted for large increases in high schools, chiefly because a more mature group of people with high school age children are moving in large numbers to the suburban area. Increased enrollment in elementary schools is due to high postwar birth rates which have not decreased in the past 6 years."

In spite of the increased classroom construction in Cook county suburbs, there will still be 32 rented rooms and 139 temporary rooms (not planned for classrooms) to house pupils now enrolled.

There will also be 78 classes with enrollments over 40 pupils and 273 classes on half-day session totalling 9,555 pupils.

APPROXIMATELY 6 out of 130 elementary districts have now used up more than 90 per cent of their total building bond power.

However, Puffer cautioned that this bright spot was only temporary for most districts since new bond issues to be voted this fall and winter would "undoubtedly" use up 90 per cent or more of the bonding power of at least 20 or 30 more school districts.

Commuter: Where Are You Going From Here?

A suburban railway commuter survey is underway in the Chicago area.

The survey is part of the Chicago area transportation study being sponsored by Illinois, Cook county, Chicago and the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

From six to nine a.m. some day next week, as commutrs line up for their trains at suburban railroad stations, they'll be handed stamped questionnaire cards. The cards will supply data to be used in working out a long-range transportation plan for the Chicago area.

The commuters are being asked where they started from, how long they expect to take, how far they have to go after they get off the train, and what other means of transportation are used in their trips. (B7

New Textbooks Will Greet Public School Pupils Here

Can you remember the thrill of being the first to use a new book when you went to school?

That thrill will become common-place next week when pupils return to their classes in Arlington Heights public elementary schools.

Keeping textbooks up to date is a continuous process in the public schools, but it has received special emphasis over the last 3 years. During this period, new textbooks have been selected and put in use in are areas of reading, health, science, music and dictionary worn.

NEW READING books were adopted this year in grades 1 through 5, after 3 years of experimentation and trial.

Also adopted for the fall term were new arithmetic books for grades 1 through 8.

Teachers were seeking a book in arithmetic which would help advanced students to learn more and also give more direction and practice to the less advanced.

New health books will be in use in grades 3 through 8. A shift in emphasis from physical to mental health was sought in the new books.

The science course of study will benefit in grades 1 through 6 from a new text which leads away from the traditional nature study and adds more physical science to the lower grade science program.

NEW LANGUAGE books in grades 6 through 8 were selected to emphasize grammar skills and their use in communication.

Children in grades 2 through 8 will return to new spelling books which were chosen to aid them in using phonetics and other skills in learning to spell.

The same dictionary now being used in the first and second year of high school was adopted in the seventh and eighth grades. The dictionary in previous use at the junior high school was found not to be inclusive enough, and omitted many words in common use today.

Instituting new textbooks on this wide scale represents many, many man hours of concentrated effort on the part of school personnel.

The recommendation to change books usually comes from a group of teachers who feel that the material in the books is too old to be useful and interesting to today's children.

At this point, a teacher committee, headed by a principal, begins gathering the textbooks published in the field from the seven or eight leading textbook companies in the country.

While this is being done, the teacher committee is busy developing a set of criteria which is to be used in judging the quality of the books to be reviewed. In the case of reading and arithmetic, the list of criteria may be as long as 2 or 3 pages.

* * *

WHEN ALL publishing companies have sample copies, the books are circulated, along with the criteria, among all the teachers concerned.

Each teacher is asked to evaluate, in writing, each of the sample books.

When the evaluations are complete, they are in turn reviewed by the original committee.

The committee, in cooperation with the superintendent and the guidance director, makes a final choice and a recommendation to the board of education.

Hansel And Gretel Players Ready For 1956-57 Season

Members of the Hansel and Gretel Players of Arlington Heights appeared on the program of the annual farewell dinner at the Methodist church camp grounds in Des Plaines Aug. 24, as a trio and in a humorous turn-about type skit, "If Girls Asked Boys for a Date."

In the cast were Dempster Leech, Arlington Heights as George, who was his first date; Connie Beckway, Arlington Hts., as Harry, who advises him; Binky Hawley, Arlington Heights, as Gay, who goes along; Linda Wilds, Palatine, as "Mother," who supervises.

Judy Petry, Forest View, doubled as announcer and stage manager. Binky, Connie and Grace formed the trio. The teenagers were received enthusiastically by an audience of more than 300 people.

THE HANSEL and Gretel Players, children's theatre in this area, have several skits available for community programs. Interested persons may call their director, Lu Staahl, at CL 3-3037.

These junior players, whose ages range from 3 to 17, were organized 2 years ago by Mrs. Staahl as an outgrowth of her classes in drama and modeling at the Delores Eiler studios.

Their 2 annual major productions were dedicated to raising funds for the proposed Northwest Community hospital.

Their first show, "Hansel and Gretel," netted $70; their second, a fashion show entitled "What are You Going to Wear?" netted $275.

Inspired by former success, they anticipate bigger and better things for the new season. (AMP

County Schools Chief Hails Rolling Meadows Program

Rolling Meadows school program was called exemplary this week by Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, in an article in the Chicago Sun-Times.

The northwest suburban area was cited as having particularly acute problems of school construction and finance.

Puffer mentioned Wheeling, Meadowdale, Palatine, Schaumburg township and Elk Grove.

Puffer praised Rolling Meadows 1,8000 families for their agreement to pay $200 per home extra for a special reserve fund for schools.

In addition he cited Kimball Hill, builder of Rolling Meadows, for his donation of a school site and the construction of buildings at cost.

He called Wheeling one of the "most critical" locations in the county schoolwise.

Efforts to get voluntary assistance from builders have been in vain stated Jack Norris, Wheeling superintendent of schools. Increased enrollment in Wheeling has been from 348 pupils 1 year ago to 640 this fall.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS in school conditions in new areas, Puffer said, are due to some progressive builders willing to contribute to school funds.

Kimbill Hill & Associates was cited as such a builder by Puffer. The original Rolling Meadows school with its 30 classrooms, gymnasium and administrative office suite was described.

In addition the second Rolling Meadows school, for which ground was broken recently, was described as having 24 classrooms, gymnasium, library and kitchen. (ACM

Arlington Greens

Street Dance a Success

The second annual Arlington Greens street dance went off as scheduled last Saturday night, and despite chilly temperatures which brought numerous celebrants out in sweaters and topcoats, was a loud and a financial success.

Dancers who carted home prizes were: Pat and Ann Danna, 624 Clarendon; Bob and Peggy Ponter, 612 Oakton, and Loren and Grace Bickell, visitors from Chicago. The Dannas won a chaise longue, the Ponters an aluminum folding table and the Bickells a folding lawn chair.

A vacation trip through Wisconsin was enjoyed by Kenneth ad Ruth Larson and their daughters recently. They spent several days visiting Kenneth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson in Madison, and the remainder of the week visiting Ruth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Christensen in Green Bay. Also visiting in Green Bay at the same time were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller and family. Mrs. Miller is Ruth's sister and the Miller family, formerly of Des Plaines, spent last weekend with the Larsons in the Meadows before going to their new home in Philadelphia.

Chester and Dorothy Rutkowski and their children, Marie, Jane and Bill, spent several days vacationing at the Wisconsin Dells last week. Visiting the Rutkowskis last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. James Houlihan and their daughter, Kathy, of Schulenburg, Texas.

On thir trip they travelled through the Alleghany and the Catskill mountains and visited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Voskanian in Justice, Pa. and also visited their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dayton and Amy Lee in New Carlisle, Ohio.

While in Wisconsin Rapids they met Lou Nye, who took them on a tour of a paper mill with which he is associated. During the second week the Pelletier family drove to Princeton, Ill., to spend several days with friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chase.

Vacationing from August 2 to 23 were Norman and Vera Valentine and their sons, Dean Dane and Don. Upon leaving home they travelled first to Kansas, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. L. Brown, and then moved on to Siouix Falls, S. D. and Park Rapids, Minn. After spending several days fishing in Minnesota they drove on to Mc Kenzie lodge in Ontario where, with an Indian guide, they found good fishing sites and explored an abandoned gold mine. After several days they moved on to Mantoulin Islands in southern Ontario and crossed on the ferry to see Niagara Falls. From there they drove on to Forestville, N. Proudest title in the world!

A tribute to the American housewife

"Just a housewife" is a term we hear too often. That's about like saying "just a doctor" or "just a company president." The job you're doing as a housewife is one of the most important anybody is doing in America.

Who is mainly responsible for your family's health? It's you — the housewife. And our fine national health record testifies to the good job you're doing on this score.

Who sets your family's standing in your community? You do. You not only create an attractive home for your family and plan the entertaining, but also make most of the outside social contacts in church, club and community. How far would the charitable operations of these groups get without your help?

And your family's financial standing depends as much upon your ability to manage money as it does your husband's ability to earn it. Your family savings program is as much your responsibility as it is your husband's.

That's why so many women today are urging their husbands to invest in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds. They know that the principal invested in Bonds is safe — not subject to market fluctuations. And the returns are sure — an average 3% interest, compounded semiannually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months). With the automatic extension privilege, Bonds will continue to pay that same high interest for 10 years more. That means $1.80 in returns for every $1.00 invested.

Remember, you can help your family win financial security tomorrow — by encouraging your husband to invest regularly in Savings Bonds.

And the next time you hear someone say "just a housewife," stick up your chin and speak up for the job you're doing. Where would your family or your country be without you?

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds

Arlington High School In 1st Week Of Football Practice

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

COLLEGE FOOTBALL is in the air around Arlington, as well as on various campuses where lettermen and other promising candidates have been asked to report early, immediately after Labor Day in most cases . . . . Seen on the Cardinal field Tuesday were John Eakins, headed back to Carthage, Dennis Maher, returning to Yale, Bob Busse, who'll be entering Evansville, Indiana, college as a freshman, and Lew Green, who'll enroll at Purdue . . . All 4 were tossing a ball around as they watched the high school gridders go through their paces to the tune of 90-degree weather.

John Eakins

Johnny Eakins is expected to again be leading Carthage at quarterback for the fourth year . . .Carthage ranked second defensively and 12th offensively among small colleges last year with a 325-yard offensive average to 125 yards for the enemy . . . Ken Lemke of Arlington is reporting at DePauw at Greencastle, Ind., Saturday . . . Lemke earned frosh numerals at DePauw in '54, plays end, stands 6-0 and weigh 180 . . . DePauw's first game Sept. 22 will be against Evansville . . . Roy Everson of Glenbard is a returning letterman end at Carthage . . .

Tom Peters of Glenbard, promising junior end at Wisconsin, has been declared ineligible . . . He caught 5 passes last year for 98 yards and 1 touchdown . . . Three from this area invited to early practice at Grinnell include Larry Dukes of Riverside, Lee Moses of Maine, Bruce Wilkerson of Prospect Heights . . . Frank Caiazza of LaGrange is among those reporting for football at Northwestern, is ranked Number 3 at left tackle . . .

BOWLING has taken the limelight in these parts with more than 4,000 league bowlers going back into action this week and next . . . Newest establishment to install the automatic spotters in this area is Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling . . . Hi-Way Recreation at Palatine has already put in new ball returns in preparation for the new spotters the middle of November . . . Jack Gunnell's and Beverly Lanes did a land office business this summer with air-conditioned alleys, as did Bowlwood Recreation in Wood Dale . . . Jeffery Lanes held its grand opening in its air-conditioned quarters in mid-summer . . .

Possibly the biggest news on the local bowling front is the plan of Tom Kouros, new daytime manager at Beverly Lanes, Arlington Heights, to possibly have "TV style" bowling series late Sunday night between outstanding local keglers.

Idea is to have the winner stay on with a new challenger each week, drawing only local bowlers from alleys within the area served by Paddock Publications . . . There'll be no TV, of course, but kegling fans are certain to follow the matches with interest . . . Further news of these impending matches will be covered in the Bowlers Directory of Paddock Publications . . .

That is the section of Paddock Publications sports pages that publishes scores of the keglers of the area, more than 4,000 each week, along with stories of local tournaments, etc. . . .

Of course, the publishers pay the typesetters after selling advertising for the Bowlers Directory on a season-long basis . . . It's a good deal for advertisers at a minimum cost . . . Latest TV bowling program starting Sept. 5 will have alleys installed right in the studio . . . Setup is the first of its kind in the country with a floor sliding over the alleys for other use the rest of the week.

EVER WONDER what pro football players make? . . . Recent dissension among members of Los Angeles Rams in their strike for pay while training brought to light the pay scale for training while trying to make the team . . . Most teams pay only board and room, plus a small expense fund . . . When the players eventually make the team they receive one-twelfth of their annual salary immediately after each league game, usually right in the locker room.

Detroit Lions pay $25 weekly expense money, the Giants $10, the Cardinals $2 a day, the Colts $15 a week.

The Packers pay "an insignificant amount" which in the case of those making the team is later subtracted from their salaries . . . One pro footballer once estimated it cost the club $150 per man per week in training camp . . . Exhibition game receipts are expected to pay for training, while actual league game receipts are designed to pay the freight . . .

Multiply 70 men, plus coaches galore, by $150 per week for 10 weeks, then add salaries of the 30-odd who make the team at $7,500 and up.

You'll probably be up in the hundreds of thousands by this time after you've added year 'round front office expense and salaries of coaches, etc. . . . Then, try to compute how many fans are needed to make the whole thing a going concern . . . Someone once said it takes an average attendance of 23,000 per game to break even . . . We'd hate to make up the difference for the Chicago Cardinals.

SERVICE SCHOOLS have always been strong bidders for football talent but haven't been interested in the big boys in basketball . . . Annapolis is changing its rules to get better cagers by increasing maximum height restriction for admission from 6-4 to 6-6 . . . Michigan State likes the third quarter best . . . In 10 games last year the Spartans scored 85 points in that period, to 61 the second, 56 the first and 41 the final frame . . . It was 41 years ago last week Wednesday that St. Louis Cardinals invested $500 in a scrawny second baseman from Dennison of Western association . . . That player was Rogers Hornsby . . .

If any of you ol' guys have a size 50 football pants, tell Coach Bill Buckellew at the new Lake Park high school, Medinah . . . He has a 270-lb. lineman and is having trouble outfitting him.

Bill Russell, star of San Francisco's national cage champs, recently polished off a whole roast chicken, vegetables, salad, double piece of apple pie, and finished in time to join the team for its regular steak dinner . . . He followed this with strawberry shortcake and a jumbo soda . . . Paul Giel, former Minnesota athlete, has the best earned-run average of any pitcher in the European army baseball league . . . Winner of Northwestern-Purdue game Oct. 6 will break the 16-16 tie between the 2 schools stretching back 61 years . . . One reason we do not think Mantle will break Ruth's home run record is the Babe's feat of knocking out 5 in 3 games Sept. 6 and 7 . . .

HUBERT MEIER, member of Laseke team in Palatine Sportsman league, bowling at Hi-Way Recreation, hit 212, 210, 197 August 27.

96 Candidates Report Monday At Palatine

A squad of 96 candidates greeted Palatine high school football coaches Monday in the opening drills. A few more were expected before the end of the week. The breakdown showed 33 varsity candidates, 34 sophomores, and 29 freshmen. Charley Feutz assisted by John Ellis has charge of the varsity, with Claude Bailey coaching the sophs and Dick Gavigan assisted by Don Wilkening directing the freshmen.

All candidates went through a routine first day of practice Monday with lots of conditioning exercises and some blocking and ball handling. Coaches gave out copies of the basic plays and included an hour of explanation on procedure, training rules, system of play to be used, etc. Varsity and sophs had both morning and afternoon workouts. Contact work was on the schedule for Wednesday and Thursday, depending on the weather.

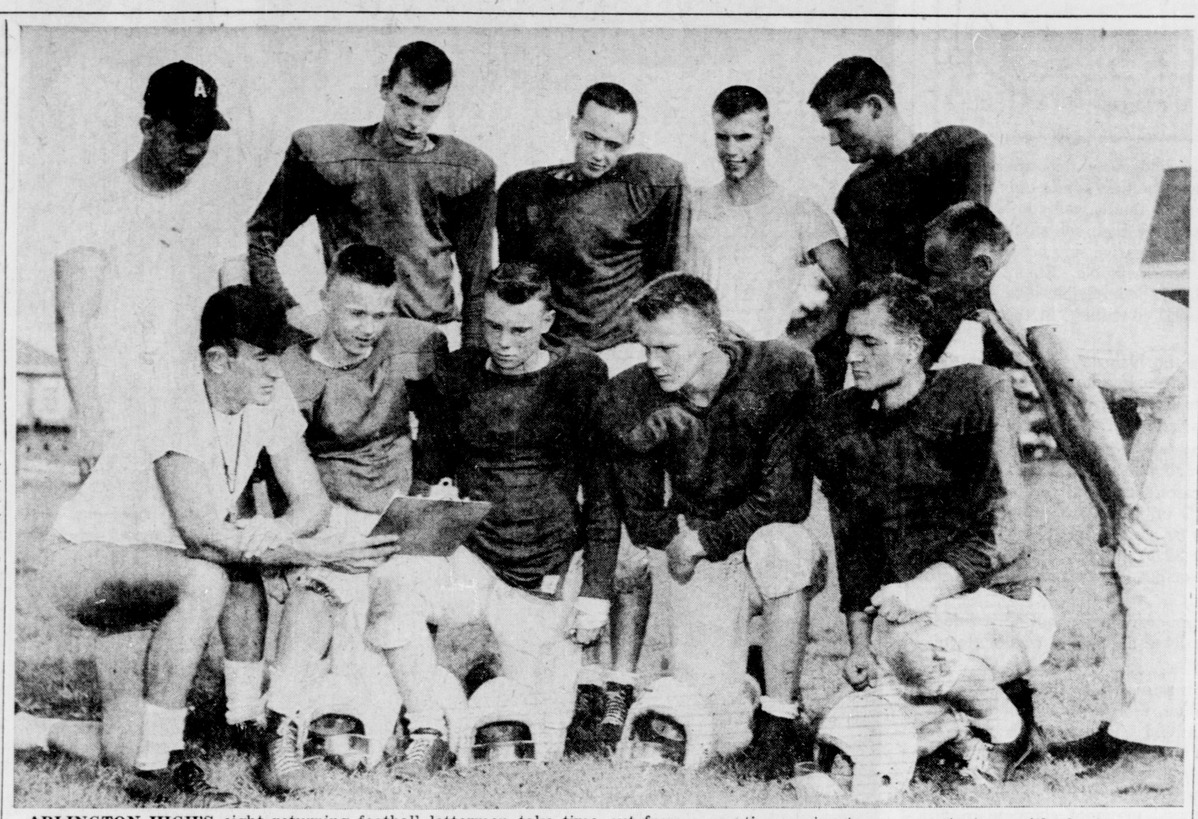
COACH FEUTZ has 6 boys back this year who saw considerable action last fall with the varsity, 3 boys earning letters. Most of the squad are juniors with plenty of ambition to make the varsity. Inexperience will be a big handicap but a number of the boys appear to have more talent than the graduating seniors. Feutz has a number of good backfield candidates. The biggest question will probably be defensive line play.

Lettermen returning are Ken Pietrucha and Jack Kiraly, tackles, and Dennis Lundgren, guard or end. Backs Karl Schwenk, Dave Shaw, and Roger Knitter saw considerable action with the '55 varsity. Douglas Schubert, who played some at center last year, had to quit football due to a bad case of asthma. With a squad made up largely of juniors who last year as sophs, were undefeated, Palatine is likely to rate as a dark horse of the conference in 1956.



ARLINGTON HIGH'S eight returning football lettermen take time out from a practice session to go over strategy with the 3 varsity football coaches. Kneeling, left to right, head coach "Bus" Ormsbe, Dean Skadberg, Denny Thill, Jim Hoffman. 8 Lettermen On Cardinals' Varsity Roster

Arlington's Cardinals officially opened the 1956 football season Monday on the practice field west of the high school with 3 weeks of concentrated sessions ahead for the gridders before the lidlifter with Leyden of the South Suburban loop, September 14.

Coaches "Bus" Ormsbee, Bob Scott, and Art Serfling sent the candidates through a routine initial practice Monday with the squad in full gear for the 2 sessions. Also getting into action were the sophomores handled by Bill Beckman and Dick Mudge and the frosh with Curtis Larsen, Maurie Kellogg, and Rusty Dowell as coaches.

Eight lettermen are back to brighten the Arlington picture, including captain-elect Dan Vittum, Dean Skadberg, Denny Thill, Jack Weber, Jim Hoffman, Carl Klehm, Ed Meinken, and Ashley Haase. Noticeable absentees include All-State and All-Conference halfback John Sujack, All-Conference tackle Wayne Malzahn, tackle Dennis Striegal, halfback Jim Summers, and fullback and past captain Jack Ebert.

LAST FALL the Cardinals experienced their best campaign in the West Suburban loop with a 4-2-1 record that included a 20-13 victory over the conference champion Hinsdale Red Devils. Heights was the second on offense with 189 points and third on defense, allowing only 77 markers in 7 games.

Gone from this powerful offensive attack will be the boys who accounted for 881 of the 1173 yards rushing and 206 of 311 yards passing. Sujack stepped off 532 yards rushing. Summers added 255, and Ebert collected 180. Sujack also passed for 189 yards with 18 completions.

On the bright side offensively is the return of Thill who showed well as No. 1 varsity quarterback as a sophomore; Haase, a good halfback who had stiff competition in '55 from Sujack and Summers; Weber, a big end with good speed who might move to fullback, and a couple junior backs who looked good on Arlington's sophomore squad last fall.

THE CARDINALS open at home with Leyden, September 14, then face York, Hinsdale, Maine, Downers, LaGrange, Glenbard, and Riverside in that order. Pre-season favorites will probably include a trio of annual gridiron powerhouses, Hinsdale, LaGrange, and Maine. On the basis of last fall's frosh-soph squads Maine and LaGrange should have a host of top personnel, as the Blue Demons swept through 7 sophomore encounters, scoring 133 points to the opponents' 14, and LaGrange dropped just 1 game, a 19-7 decision to Maine.

Varsity and frosh-soph schedule with sophomore games at Arlington starting at 6 p.m.:

Friday, September 14, Leyden, Here, 8 p.m.
Friday, September 21, York, Here, 8 p.m.
Saturday, September 29, Hinsdale, There, 2 p.m.
Friday, October 5, Maine, Here, Homecoming, 8 p.m.
Saturday, October 13, Downers, There, 2 p.m.
Saturday, October 20, LaGrange, There, 2 p.m.
Friday, October 26, Glenbard, Here, 8 p.m.
Saturday, November 3, Riverside, There, 2 p.m.

2 Key Semi-Pro Contests Over Labor Day Weekend

Two big games are on the docket at Recreation Park over the Labor day weekend with each contest holding a key to the title of the Greater Chicago semi-pro loop.

Sunday the 2 pace-setting clubs in the loop, Kolski's and Oak Park, will meet at Recreation Park at 3 p.m., then on Monday Arlington's Redwings will entertain Kolski's in another 3 o'clock encounter.

At is stands now, the loop could end in a 3-way deadlock between Kolski's, Oak Park, and Arlington or either Oak Park or Kolski's could claim an undisputed title. At a league meeting Monday it was decided that the championship would not be decided on a percentage basis but on a game basis. The withdrawal of Worth AC from the league necessitated this stipulation because some clubs wouldn't play as many games as others and consequently a title couldn't be decided fairly on a percentage basis.

OAK PARK is a half game on top of Kolski's but the former has to play both Kolski's and the Chicago Vets yet this season. Kolski's has 3 tilts left with Arlington, Oak Park, and the Vets while Arlington concludes the season Labor day. Arlington has to beat Kolski's to maintain a mathematical chance for at least a tie. If the league ends in a 3 team deadlock, a round-robin would be played and if 2 clubs tie for the title, a single contest would be staged. All the playoff games would be played at Recreation Park.

Dick Bokelmann fashioned a neat 7 hit shutout last Sunday as he set down Skokie, 4-0. The locals' right-handed ace was backed by the tremendous hitting of shortstop Tony Esposito who collected a single, double, and triple, and a key pinch triple by Manager Bud Blumenthal.

Arlington countered its initial run in the second. Esposito doubled with one out, went to third on a passed ball, and came home on Larson's sacrifice fly. Esposito's triple following Stang's long double brought in the second center in the sixth. The final 2 tallies resulted in the seventh when Anderson singled, Lloyd Meyer sacrificed and Sprincz was hit by a pitched ball; then Blumenthal, hitting for Red Pristach, slammed a long triple driving in Anderson and Sprincz.

24 points to the opponents' 127. Bob Boyd who had graduated, captured the loop title with 7 straight wins and it outscored opponents, 223-51. Glenbrook is again labeled with the favorite's role, but no team can be counted out until the firing is over in November.

• • •

INCLUDED on the Fenton home schedule are Leyden, Ela-Vernon, Wauconda the Homecoming affair, October 19. Wauconda will carry a 5 game winning streak over Fenton into the Homecoming contest, having won every tilt since last fall.

Gridders Prepare For Sept. 15 Tilt At Fenton

Three weeks of concentrated practice sessions faced Fenton high school gridders Monday as they opened football practice in preparation for the season opener with the Leyden J-V's, September 15.

Coach Paul Henry was greeted by an enthusiastic squad with 8 lettermen returning to the fold for the '56 campaign. Several promising newcomers should make this Bison outfit an "intreesting" football team to quote Henry.

The schedule does somewhat favor Fenton with 4 league powerhouses of 1955-Glenbrook, Antioch, Grayslake, and Wauconda--facing the Bisons in the second half of the campaign after the seventh place club last fall has a chance to test its potential in the initial quartet of contests.

FENTON OPENS at home against the Leyden J-V's, a club which edged the locals, 7-6, in the opener last fall. After Leyden the Bisons will meet Grant, Palatine, and Ela-Vernon in order before facing 4 straight weeks against th Northwest Conference's top 4 clubs of '55.

The Bisons finished seventh last fall with a 1-4-1 record and scored

First game for the high school Cardinals will be Leyden Sept. 14, with York, Maine and Glenbard the other home opponents. Season reserved seat tickets will be priced at $5, entitling fans to the same reserved seat at all games.

NEW STAND erected on the east side of the field will enable the athletic department to attempt to keep up with increased enrollment, though the 2,200 expected students would crowd the field if they all turned out for the games.

Permanent stands on the west side, numbering 1600 seats, will include only the 320 reserved season tickets, plus remaining 1,280 for students. No one else will be permitted in these permanent stands on the west side of the field. Other fans wishing to view the game from "the Arlington side" can sit in temporary bleachers on both side of the larger permanent stands.

PERMANENT STANDS of the east side will be reserved for both visitors and home fans, the south half to be marked "for visitors." In addition there will be the tem porary bleachers on both sides of side, as well as along the south the permanent stands on the east end zone.

Increased enrollment this year will put fans with season reserved seats at a greater advantage than ever. These tickets can be purchased during school days, starting Tuesdaay, in the office of John Schaff, business manager, in the extreme southeast corner of the latest addition to the high school. (SP

Local Boosters Conclude Initial Summer Campaign

by BOB FRISK

The curtain came down in rather disappointing fashion for the Arlington Boosters this past weekend with 2 straight losses, but there is still a definite degree of optimism concerning the outlook for the summer of 1957.

A lot can happen in a year with boys changing their minds about playing ball, but, as it stands now, if the tentative roster for '57 holds true to form, Arlington should have one of the top clubs--either on an amateur or semi-pro level--in the Chicago area.

The addition of John Perrill and Bill Liedholm from Park Ridge would help to bolster the locals, and both boys have stated they would like to play next summer. Perrill, a third baseman by trade, would probably be used at short as it isn't likely he could budge dependable Ted Bakalar from his slot at third. Liedholm, who didn't strike out once during his senior year at Maine--a remarkable feat for a schoolboy performer--can play either the outfield or first base and he is a consistent hitter. Liedholm had 2 hits against the Midwest All-Stars in his only apperance with the locals.

WITH THE possible addition of these 2 boys and such names as Dan Vittum and Al Smeby, recent graduates of legion baseball, and Lloyd Meyer, hustling second sacker who ranked as one of the top keystone performers in the semi-pro loop this summer, Arlington would field a formidable team with adequate strength on the bench--one of the drawbacks on the '56 squad.

Vittum is a lefty sticker who led the legion team in hitting with a .292 mark. Dan is an outfielder who has one more year of high school ball. Smeby is a fast-balling right hander who struck out 91 legion batters in 55 innings this summer and walked only 18. As mentioned before, Meyer is a valuable performer. Lloyd would add a lot of class to the infield and he's a good hitter.

There are a lot of "ifs" revolving around the long-range forecast for the Boosters but the material is present for a good ball club. Back from this summer's team will be Bakalar, possibley the team's top performer--a tremendous fielder who also led the club in hitting; John Sujack, a crafty lefty who, surprisingly enough, didn't win a game this summer but who twirled good ball; Ron Ashley, the "best" defensive outfielder in the area whose hitting will improve; Bob Getts, a good hitted who can play the infield or outfield; and Charles Verret, a rangy infielder who was used at short, second, and first.

OTHER RETURNEES who saw a considerable amount of action this summer will include Bob Hamilton, the strong-armed Palatine grad who collected 2 of Arlington's 3 wins and also hit consistently; Stan Fletcher, catcher-out-fielder who hit .267 Bob Dotts, catcher who shows a lot of hustle but who'll have to pick up his hting; Roger Thomas, first baseman who looked good at the plate in the latter stages of the season; Dave Ryden, acting manager who can play practically any position on the team; and Mike Shanklin, possibly the hardest worker on the club who showed well in his appearances on the mound.

The aforementioned boys will carry Arlington's hopes next summer. There may be some additions or some other changes but only time will tell. The next item on the program is setting up a tentative plan for 1957 in regard to financial support. the decision to play amateur or semi-pro ball, and getting into a league. These items will be taken care of immediately.

Following an impressive 2-0 victory over the Midwest All-Stars, champions of the Shore-line amateur baseball league, the Boosters, sponsored by Dick Black, fell victim to Lake Forest and North Chicago in tight 3-2 and 3-1 affairs.

HAMILTON BAFFLED the All-Stars, August 22, for the second time this season. In recording a 2-0 shutout Bob stretched his streak of scoreless innings to 16 as he scattered 3 hits, striking out 3.

Arlington countered its initial run in the first when Meyer walked, went to second on Bakalar's sacrifice, and scored on an error. The final tally resulted when Perrill got on via an error, went to second on Liedholm's sacrifice, and came home on an error by the first baseman.

Saturday Lake Forest came from behind to deal the Boosters a 3-2 defeat. Trailing 2-0 going into the sixth, the hosts pushed over the 2 tying runs, then tallied the deciding marker in the ninth on a single, wild pitch, and single by Dick Baughmas.

SHANKLIN STARTED on the hill and pitched creditable ball before tiring in the sixth. In the first 5 frames Lake Forest collected 1 infield hit off the lefty's slants. Heights scored in the first and second on 3 hits and a hit batsman.

Sunday Arlington outhit the visitors, 7-5, but couldn't back Sujack with any concentrated attack. The locals tallied their only run in the seventh when Rog Thomas walked and came home on Ryden's long double to right.

Sujack fanned 13 and walked 5 in his 9 innings of toiling for an impressive performance. The victor's Bill Morrissey fanned 10 and walked 4.

BAKALAR, SLICK fielding third baseman who batted .417 in his senior year of high school, came back after a 2 year layoff and rapped the ball with enough consistency in an abbreviated campaign to capture the Boosters' batting title.

Termed by many observers as the Boosters' top player this summer, Bakalar showed 9 hits in 31 at bats for a respectable .290 mark. Verret finished second among the regulars who batted more than 20 times with a .276 mark. Lloyd Meyer, who played in 5 games, hit .286 for 14 bats, but, of course, Liedholm's 2 hits in 2 official trips to the plate placed him at the top of the list.

Ban Milk Machines

After 2 years of operation, milk vending machines have been prohibited in Barrington by village ordinance. The ordinance bans the machines for sanitary reasons, such as the impossibility of knowing whether the refrigeration apparatus is always in order. Barrington police have also received numerous complaints that no milk nor refund came when money was inserted as directed.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

WITH FOOTBALL getting underway this week in the high schools of Illinois and the first games only 2 weeks away from this date of publication we might well consider what it takes for a boy to be eligible to play high school football or any other sport in Illinois. From the negative side here are some of the things which can make a boy ineligible. Eligibility ends when a boy reaches the age of 20. He is ineligible if he did not pass 3 courses, not including physical education, in the previous semester.

If he enters school later than the 11th day of the semester he is ineligible for the whole semester. If a boy is absent from school for 10 or more consecutive dayst for other reasons than illness he is ineligible the rest of the semester.

If he played in an outside athletic contest without written permission of the principal he is ineligible and the principal may not give permission for out-of-season basketball or football. If he played on any all-star football or basketball team he is ineligible. If he received pay (cash or merchandise), regardless of the amount, or awards exceeding $2.00 (except a school letter) in value for athletic achievement or have played on a team with a paid player he is ineligible.

Also if he attended a clinic or coaching school he is ruled ineligible. Further a boy has to have a doctors' certificate of physical fitness.

The boy's parents or guardian must live in the district or he is not eligible to compete. If he moves from one school to another during a semester he must attend school a month before he can enter athletic competition in the new school. If it is at the start of a semester he may compete immediately. After a boy has been enrolled in high school 8 semesters or parts of semesters he is no longer eligible to compete and may not compete in any sport more than 4 seasons. It is surprising how many parents and athletes are not familiar with the state eligibilty rules.

A WEEK PRIOR to each athletic contest a complete list of all boys eligible to compete in the contest along with date of birth, place of birth, semester in school, years of athletic competition, date of last medical examinations, etc. must be sent by the principal to the opposing school in when he certifies all listed are passing in 3 solid subjects for the present semester to that date. The state supplies forms for use in sending eligibility reports.

Also, any athletic contest, music contest, speech contest, student council conference, or any school activity in which as many as 5 institutions take part must have the approval of the state high school office through application blanks submitted giving all details. This is to prevent outside groups of special interests from exploiting high school students for their own selfish gain.

THERE IS A LOT of discussion of why not 1 member of the West Rockford state championship basketball team enrolled at Illinois for this coming term. The three colored boys Nolden Gentry, Don Slaughter, and Bob Washington all are enrolled at Iowa. John Wessels, the 6-7 center goes to North Carolina State and Tom Blake is enrolled at Bradley. Gentry was all-American and all-state and an "A" student. Tom Payne, all-state from Quincy is also going to Iowa.

While the 2 colored all-staters from Edwardsville's second place team are going to Illinois, we are told, consider the fact no colored athlete has ever played varsity basketball for the. Illini Supporters of Coach Harry Combes of Illinois say he has never had any good enough who could stay eligible. On the other hand we could counter with the fact that Illinois and Combes have not tried very hard to get colored cage stars. Combes is going to have to change if he expects to keep up in the Big Ten. For 2 years the state title in Indiana has been between 2 colored teams and the city title in Chicago has also been all dark. Half the players competing in the championship and third place games at the Illinois state tournament this last year were colored. Some sports writers criticize Combes' style of basketball at Illinois and claim that is a reason so many good boys shy away from going to Illinois.

Sports Editor Herb Jannusch of Kankakee, the home town of the Illinois cage captain Harv Schmidt, thinks the boy would have done better to have gone somewhere else.

He says "Combes demands speed, shooting, and rebounding and if he doesn't have 2 of the 3 on a given night he's dead. The margin of error is great. You shoot, shoot, rebound and run, run, run. The system depends almost entirely on individual brilliance and little on team play."

Wayne Whitmore who has been athletic director and varsity football and track at Warren High the past 4 years, has been added to the Libertyville High coaching staff. Whitmore who will teach drivers training and boys P.E. will assist with varsity track and football and take over wrestling at Libertyville. Henry Kimball will be varsity track coach succeeding the retiring Bob Kelton. Bob Tunnicliff handles varsity football.

FOUR PALATINE ALUMNI are working out daily with the high school grid squad to get ready for return to action on their respective college squads. Douglas Hildebrandt is rated a fine chance to see action in the line for Miami university this fall as a sophomore.

Norman Stenzel lettered as a soph last year at Dubuque university and a good year is predicted for him as a back. Larry Hapke will return to Morningside early for practice where he will be a soph end candidate. Tom Hillesheim, one of the hardest tacklers in Palatine history, will try to win the center position at Illinois Normal university.

6 Coaches Comprise Staff At Lake Park High School

by BOB FRISK

Six men with varied teaching and athletic careers at grade school, high school, and college levels, comprise the coaching staff of the new Lake Park high school, located just west of Medinah country club on Medinah rd.

Competing only on a junior-varsity level in its initial year of operation, Lake Park will branch into a complete varsity setup in 1957 when it becomes a full 4-year school. At present Lake Park is just a 3-year operation with seniors attending Glenbard in Glen Ellyn.

Heading the athletic department at Lake Park is a personable young man who did his undergraduate work at North Dakota State, served on the staff of physical education at the University of Illinois, then acted as coach of all sports at Kankakee public school for 2 years. Bill Buckellew will also handle the junior-varsity football and track teams in addition to his duties as athletic director.

GERALD CARPENTER, assistant football coach and head of both the basketball and golf teams, played varsity basketball in his undergraduate days at Iowa State Teachers College. Upon graduation he went to Maquoteka, Iowa, where he spent 5 years as head basketball and assistant football mentor. Carpenter, who will also teach social studies at Lake Park, lives in Villa Park and has 2 boys.

Former Fenton high coach who handled the freshman gridders and varsity track squad at the Bensenville school, Eugene Swierzeski, will be in charge of freshman football and varsity wrestling. Swierzeski recently earned his Master's Degree at Western State Teachers college in Macomb where he was an intercollegiate wrestler. Swierzeski, who prepped at Blue Island, coached wrestling in Roand has a daughter.

A DePaul university grad who played varsity basketball and baseball for the Blue Demons, Norbert Wesoloski, will be in charge of Lake Park's freshman basketball charges and varsity baseball team. Wesoloski, who will teach math and commute from Chicago, played his high school baseball with Bill Skowron, big first baseman for the New York Yankees.

WITH 9 YEARS of teaching and coaching experience at Rock Falls, Gaylon Elliott will assist Carpenter with the varsity cagers. Elliott, a graduate of DeKalb teachers college, gained his Master's Degree from Bradley in Peoria. He will teach industrial arts.

Completing the Lake Park coaching staff is Don Zimmerman who at present is an assistant in football but will also handle the large intramural program to be adopted when school opens. Zimmerman, a biology instructor, is in his first year of teaching, having completed his undergraduate work at River Falls St. Teachers' college and Master's from the University of Illinois.

These 6 men comprise the coaching staff at Lake Park high school —a school in its first year of operation with less than 300 students but which expects to increase enrollment to approximately 2500 in 5 years. Next week we will give a brief report on the intramural program at Lake Park and also mention the Girls' athletic association and the proposed additional building program which will be going on in the near future on the school's 37 acres.

$2.00 Dog

The well worn phrase of "you get what you pay for" is just as true with dogs as it is with any other item which you might purchase. It has come to the attention of your editor, on more than one occasion, that many people who purchase a dog for a price are often disappointed.

Far be it from any dog writer to discourage a family from owning a dog, especially where there are children involved. However, people who persist in approaching legitimate breeders with the idea that they can buy a pure bred registered dog for practically next to nothing have much to learn about what it takes to breed and raise pure bred dogs. Oftentimes remarks are made that dogs years ago could be purchased for a very nominal price. By the same token, even children years ago did not have the benefit of present day medications which our youngsters of today are now enjoying. It is therefore quite evident that when you are bringing up healthy dogs as well as healthy youngsters there is a certain amount of expense involved. In the case of dogs people oftentimes forget that a breeder that is doing a conscientious and honest job of trying to raise and continue the strain of a particular dog has a considerable amount of expense, not only before the pups are born but for a period of weeks thereafter.

Vitamins and good puppy food after the pups have been weaned, along with the necessary inoculations and etc. all add to the expense which a breeder of pure bred dogs incurs when he has a litter of pups that is being raised.

It is little wonder therefore that a breeder, considering the time and the expense must try to arrive at something better than a $2 dog when he is selling pure bred pups.

Obedience Trial

Last Sunday, August 26, brought out one of the largest entries of German Shepherd dogs ever entered in a specialty obedience trial. The trial, which was held by the German Shepherd Dog Training Club of Chicago at their training field on rte. 53, south of St. Charles rd. in Lombard, had entries from all over the middlewest. This was due in part to the fact that the club had been designated by the German Shepherd Dog Club of America as being the host club for the annual specialty obedience trial and tracking test for the year 1956.

Although rain early in the morning threatened the success of the show, by the time the judging started it had cleared off and with the sun coming out in full force the trial went on to become a huge success.

Spectators and exhibitors agreed that it was without a doubt one of the finest specialty obedience trials held within our area. Some of our local people who had dogs in the show included Arnold Selan of Arlington Heights. Two others from Arlington Heights who had dogs entered were: Mrs. D. Brening and Susanna Sullivan. John Curley of Bensenville also had his dog entered in the trial. However, top honors for all the dogs in this area who were exhibited should go to the dog owned by Arnold Selan. His dog, "Kip von Arlington," won the top Utility class with a score of 199½ and tied with another dog for the highest score in the trial.

Booming Bassets

The country as a whole is experiencing quite a boom in the sale of Basset hounds. These are the long low slung dogs with the mournful look which the public now recognizes as the breed of Morgan and Cleo of television fame. Cleo, who appears on the Peoples Choice show, starring Jackie Cooper, not to be outdone by Morgan even has a voice dubbed in for her comments.

No one knows for certain how many Bassets there are in the country at present, but the American Kennel club who keeps a record of all pure bred dogs states that in one recent year registration for this breed had increased some 68 per cent over the corresponding period. Twenty some odd years ago the American Kennel club showed a registration of perhaps 150 of the breed. This, of course, did not take into consideration many dogs that were exclusively bred for field work and whose owners did not particularly care whether their dogs were registered or not.

The breed originated in France and they were basically a hunting breed used on rabbits. The strong current demand for them is largely for house pets. They require relatively little exercise, they seldom bark and they get along very well with children.

Correction on Correction

Your editor's patience is often tried almost to the breaking point when through error, not on his part, but in the publishing of the paper mistakes occur over which he has no control. A few weeks ago a correction was mentioned relative to the Dee Musters of Bensenville. When the correction came out in the paper it was such that no one really knew what was being corrected. Nevertheless here goes again with another crack at trying to get the thing right. A previous column mentioned that the Dee Musters had their Weimaraner "Gourmets Sardar" going Reserve Winners at the National Weimaraner Specialty show. Needless to say this was an error, for actually the dog was Best of Winners.

Although part of the above correction when it was made showed up, part was left out and it still didn't quite make sense. As mentioned before many of the Musters' friends called them and questioned about the placing, and since have called relative to the correction which they couldn't quite understand. Let's hope we have better luck this time.

Barks and Bays

With so much talk of rare this and something unusual that, perhaps an item for the rare section would be the Tibetan Mastiff which, instead of barking similar to a dog as we know it, has a bark which resembles a roaring lion. This, believe me, is perhaps the only way it could be described.

Sizzling On The College Grid

Illini Lack Depth At End

Carthage college football coach, Art Keller, will open his 1956 season on Sept. 13 with half of last year's squad returning. Of the 20 lettermen on last year's team, exactly 10 of them will be available to play this fall.

In addition to having the problem of manufacturing a squad out of raw material, Keller will be faced with the toughest schedule in Carthage college football history. A total of 10 contests will carry the Redmen through Nov. 17 without a single weekend break. And included on the roster this year are such powers as Iowa Wesleyan College of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, Mankato State Teachers College of Mankato, Minn., and Ferris Institute of Big Rapids, Mich.

Lost lettermen include such grid giants as tackle Jim Langan of Quincy and guard Don Wiek of Maine.

With hope of finding some hidden talent, Keller has mailed out 60 invitations for grid practice to begin on Sept. 3. Of this number, 30 will be freshmen, many of whom are relatively inexperienced.

ILLINOIS football coach Ray Eliot feels that end is 1 of 2 major problem spots confronting the Illini coaching staff when practice opens here Saturday, Sept. 1. It appears likely sophomores will have to provide depth at this position, and thus far not any of the newcomers has shown readiness to step into Big Ten football.

Actually, the picture could brighten considerably before the season's opener with California in Memorial Stadium Sept. 29. Eliot will feel considerably better if: (1) Junior Rod Hanson, Harvey (Thornton), regular left end last year, finds that his ankle, broken in spring practice, is O.K.; (2) Senior lettermen Charlie Butler, Hot Springs, Ark., and Gary Francis, Bloomington, produce up to the potential Eliot believes they possess; and (3) 1 or 2 of a fairly promising group of sophomores indicate they are ready to lend some aid.

Four sophomores seem to be a bit ahead of their classmates, but coaches feel they will be able to better pick any standouts after first few weeks of fall practice. Right now, Eliot likes Ron Hill, 6-3, 210 pounds, Rochelle; Jim Brown, 6-3, 210 pounds, Mendota; Bruce Beckmann, 6-4, 202 pounds, St. Louis, Mo. (Mercy); and Larry Stewart, 6-3, 213 pounds, Galesburg. All 4 have good size, impressive prep records, and fine attitudes, but they may be lacking speed needed for top collegiate performers.

DON BONOMO, highly-regarded end candidate for Indiana's 1956 football team, has fallen victim to a trick shoulder and will not be able to compete this season, Hoosier Coach Bernie Crimmins announced. The career of the 6-2, 197-pound 20-year-old from Flint, Mich., may be at an end before ever getting underway in collegiate competition as a result of the shoulder injury which kept him out of play last fall and then, after a corrective operation, was reinjured in the spring game last April.

Nature of the injury—a vulnerability to downward force on the shoulder—doesn't permit effective use of protective devices, such as a chain. Re-injury in the spring occurred on the last day of practice after the shoulder had passed all other tests.

Refuse Builder

Libertyville village board has again rejected modified plans of the Cooper construction company of Chicago for development of the 150-acre Medo Salzavara farm south of Buckley rd. and east of the Des Plaines river. Trustees said to preserve the character of the neighborhood it would be necessary for Cooper to build houses on 1 acre lots.

Q. If one receives a written invitation that does not specify how long one is to visit as a house guest, should the letter of acceptance state it?

A. Yes; specify just how long you intend to stay.

Quick Changes

The haste in which managers pull their pitchers is emphasized in the major leagues this year. Figures in The Sporting News show that fewer than one-third of the starting pitchers in the first 324 games went the distance. Out of 648 starting hurlers, 194 finished.

BIG TASK at Michigan State in the view of the coaches, is to plug the huge holes left by such departed stars as Norm Masters, tackle; Buck Nystrom, guard; Earl Morrall, quarterback; Gerry Planutis, fullback; Joe Badaczewski, center; Gary Lowe, fullback; Leo Haidys, tackle, and John Lewis, end. These were the key operatives on the 1955 team which won 8 of 9 regular season games and won the Rose Bowl contest over UCLA 17-14.

Perhaps most critical of all is the line situation, where only one senior figures to start. He is Capt. John Matsko, at center. The rest of the first string figures to be all junior, with the exception of Nystrom's old right guard spot. Then the 3 top prospects all are sophomores. This adds up to a considerable degree of inexperience where it could hurt most—in the front line trenches. (Sp

150 To Race For $7,000 At O'Hare

At least 150 different cars and drivers are set to race for glory and $7,000 in purses in the special weekend of auto racing coming up at Chicagoland's O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim rd. (rte. 45), just south of Irving Park (rte. 19). There will be a total of close to 500 laps of competition.

The ambitious and star-studded schedule will present the mighty midgets, the fast and furious modified stock cars that were such a hit in their debut last weekend, the popular, battling late model stocks and roaring roadsters over a four-night span.

The first program this Friday under the lights will be the big one for the midgets with a 100-lap title event slated to select the wee car champion for 1956 at O'Hare. Cars and drivers from five states will be in action. There will also be a 25-lap semi-final event and five preliminary races.

MODIFIED STOCK cars will be back for their second fling at O'Hare Saturday night with 60 entries expected to go 'round and 'round for a full, eight-event show. Many will be shooting to stop Elmer Musgrave of Des Plaines who captured last week's feature test handily.

Late model stock cars, including a strong contingent of new 1956 entries, will return for their own brand of racing excitement at O'Hare around the highly banked asphalt racing surface Sunday evening. Highlight of the program will be the feature race starting 20 or more cars.

The holiday weekend will conclude in grand fashion with a special treat Monday (Labor day) evening that will include both the late models and the famous roaring roadsters which will be making one of their rare Chicagoland showings. Twenty-five lap features are slated for both groups.

All racing activity at O'Hare Stadium is under the open competition banner which means all cars and drivers are eligible. Time trials begin each evening at 6:30 p.m. with competitive action getting underway at 8:30. There is ample off the highway parking space. (Sp

Lohr's Climbs To 1st In Twilight League

Each week has seen a different team in first place in the Arlington twilight golf league at Mt. Prospect Country Club and last week was no exception. Even though Joe Lohr took a vacation, his team knocked off the leaders, Jahn's Fire Protection Service, by taking 8½ points. All of the top 3 teams took a licking and Lohr's Pharmacy moved into first place from fourth.

With only 1 week left there are still several teams who could win, although the 3 point lead of the pharmacists gives them a definite edge.

Ken Fuhr shot the low gross with a 38. Walt Kuczynski had the low a 32. Bir..... net with a 32. Birdies were shot by Kuczynski on 13 and 16, Kleinofen on 1 and 6, Fuhr on 5 and 7, Franzen on 1, and Dobbelaere on 18.

After golf play the annual meeting for the election of officers was held with the following elections for 1957: Charles Staadt, president; Paul Malchow, vice president; Ralph Panek, secretary; and Robert Gits, treasurer.

2 Points Separate Old Orchard Leaders

The last night of league play in the Old Orchard Scratch Loop will determine the league winners for the summer of 56. As of last Friday night, only 2 points separate the first and second place team with the third place teams, 6 points behind.

Smith & Dawson managed to collect the most points last Friday night to put them into position for a seat at the trophy table by collecting 5 points from Arlington Pharmacy. Leading S. & D.'s attack was D. Musser shooting a 1 over par 37 against B. Blessing and P. Scully's 37 against F. Steinken.

State & Rand playing Cork & Bottle halved its match to tighten the race in the final night position round where conceivably the sixth place team could end up the season in third place. L. Arnold led S. & R. with a 38 and H. Kamps fired a 39 to win the other match point.

After play tomorrow night members are reminded to stay for the election of officers for next year, and to clear up details for the tournament Sunday, Oct. 7th at 12:30 and the banquet Oct. 13th.

Bums' Ground Chief Calls Meyer 'Fussy Russy' After Hurler's Kick

Veteran Pitcher Russ Meyer of the Chicago Cubs stirred up a hornet's nest when he protested recently about the lack of uniformity of the pitching mounds in various National League parks. He blasted particularly at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn and Crosley Field in Cincinnati.

Now it develops that about the time Meyer's blast was carried in The Sporting News, American League player representatives were taking action to provide more uniformity in mounds in their own league.

SPORTING NEWS says that American League pitchers got tired of getting nowhere in complaining to their managers. So they lodged an official protest through members of the players' committee. Spike Briggs, president of the Detroit Tigers, told The Sporting News that the American League player representatives in their meeting with owners protested chiefly against conditions in New York, Kansas City and Detroit. In each case the complaints were mostly against the size and shape of the mounds, or lack of mounds in bull pens.

Briggs said the league naturally would do something to remedy the conditions the players complained about. "All of the owners are of one mind on that," he said, "but we can't act unless we are advised of unfair conditions."

BOB WIESLER, former member of the Yankees now with the Senators, was vigorous in his criticism. The Yankee Stadium visitors' bull pen, he said, is the worst in the league. It has no mound, he said, and visiting pitchers actually have to pitch uphill. Yankee pitchers in their own bull pen, he added don't have those conditions to contend with.

Joe Haynes, former pitching coach of the Senators, said pitchers also were complaining about bull pen conditions in Kansas City and Detroit. There isn't any mound to work from in those two parks, he said, for those warming up in the bull pen. Haynes, now a vice president of the Senators, said that pitching will lack consistency until there is a uniform character of dirt on the pitcher's mounds.

MEANWHILE, Meyer's sharp criticism of the mounds in Brooklyn and Cincinnati didn't go long unanswered. Matt Burns, who is in charge of the grounds crew in Brooklyn, exploded when he learned of the complaints. "That guy," he said of Meyer, "simply doesn't know what he's talking about." Burns said that Brooklyn, instead of having the worst park in the National League, has been judged by experts as having the best. And that, he said, includes the pitching mound.

British Grooming Gets A Boost With Bus Shavers

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Englishmen may now shave while riding to work in the morning.

Numerous bus lines, competing for good service, have installed electric razors for their customers.

The late sleeper need no longer look like a burglar when he comes to work in the morning. Business on many British buses is now really buzzing.

THIS LUXURY service is not yet available on London's transports, but is confined to some suburban lines.

Customers are handled in the following way: when a request for a shave is made, a bus company employee removes a razor from a sanitary cellophane wrapper, plugs it into one of numerous sockets, hands it to the gentleman along with a sheet-metal mirror, and then charges the equivalent of about three cents for service.

Some bus lines, because of heavier demands, do not offer a "just out of the wrapper" razor, but instead replace after each customer only the section touching the skin.

ANOTHER system which is being tried is that of having the razors permanently chained to tiny boxes by the bus seats. This prevents the bus company from getting clipped as well.

If the idea becomes national, it could mean the complete extinction of the five o'clock shadow.

A British electric razor manufacturer is said to be the creator of this venture. The value in advertising of such a scheme is colossal.

MANY PEOPLE are inclined to regard new inventions with suspicion.

The razor-strap, valuable for keeping order in the home and one's blade sharp, is fighting hard to stay in the British Isles.

Some English people are still against using telephones.

Putting electric razors on buses is an effective way of getting many men to "take the first step".

Sooner or later a man will find himself riding along, needing a shave, and without time.

After that, he is supposed to be converted. For that reason, the razor companies and not the bus lines are paying the main costs of the scheme. (B10

Hobo Summer In Europe

Touring Coed Is Impressed With 'Friendly' Italians

by NANCY EMIG

Today I walked down the Via Della Conciliazione in Rome to the USO, when I drank my first milk shake since we sailed from New York more than a month ago.

At this point, feeling somewhat refreshed, I decided to find the American college and see if there was any chance of obtaining an audience with the Pope.

I started walking again, asking directions as I went. The people all over Europe, and especially in Italy, are friendly and helpful. If you ask the way to a place, they'll stop work, come out of their shops and point directions with elaborate gestures. They'll even walk you direct to your destination!

* * *

AFTER STOPPING 8 times, I finally found myself on top of a high hill where the view of Rome was terrific — but NO American College.

I felt hot, tired and discouraged. My feet had just about given out.

At this moment an old Italian gentleman come by on his Vespa (motorcycle) and motioned for me to hop on back—he would drive me down the hill to the American College.

What a thrill, to be off my aching feet and on a Vespa, my favorite vehicle, zooming down a hill in Italy, feeling the cool breeze after melting in the warm sun all day.

We reached our destination at the bottom of the hill and I thanked him in my far-from-fluent Italian. He smiled, and wished me good luck as he roared off.

WHEN I entered the huge college building and showed them my letters of introduction, the little Italian man at the door directed me into the garden and down a long walk to another building where I met another who spoke English.

He told me the Pope was at his summer palace, Castle Gondalfo, and only came to Rome for Wednesday audiences. We were leaving early Sunday morning, so that was that.

As I left I said the usual "arrivedieici," which means "until we meet again." He shouted something which I finally interpreted to mean "when?" so I replied, "perhaps in 10 years, if I'm lucky."

I boarded an autobus for Monti Parioli where I had been invited to have dinner with Fred and Mary Jane Zusy. He is connected with Associated Press in Rome.

WHEN I ASKED the bus conductor how to reach Ria Ammannati 12, he said he would tell me when to get off. When he did motion to me, he walked with me to the front of the bus and stood there, holding traffic for 5 minutes while gesturing directions, etc.

When he finally got back on the bus and started up, everyone on the trolley turned back, smiled, and waved goodbye to me. It was a heartwarming experience and reaffirmed my impression of the friendly Italians.

I'll never forget being alone in Rome — because in truth I never was really alone with all those friendly people "cheering" me on and making me feel completely at home.

(Next week: The touring coed visits romantic Austria.)

Lake Balloting

Three short special referendums dealing solely with Lake county issues will appear on the November 6 election ballot. They are: (1) Whether or not to abolish town tax collectors and place tax collection entirely in the hands of the county treasurer; 2) A proposal to create a lake county health department; 3) A tax referendum to provide funds for the continued operation of the county tuberculosis sanitorium.

Rough Rider

The "Rough Riders," of Spanish-American war fame were recruited by Theodore Roosevelt and commanded by Leonard Wood.

ROBERT TAYLOR and Dana Wynter star in the great motion picture of love and war "D-Day, The Sixth of June." The film is in CinemaScope and Technicolor and is now playing at the Catlow theatre in Barrington.

Jobs Aplenty In Northwest Area

Jobs are going begging in the northwest area of Chicago and office of the Illinois State Employment service.

Victor Copersmet, newly-appointed manager of the office at 5306 W. Lawrence, Chicago, noted this fact in making his first progress report since the re-opening of the office in June, 1955. It serves northwest suburban towns as well as Chicago.

In the 6-month period from January through June of this year, 2,600 job vacancies were received. Only 1,853 of the jobs were filled.

IN THE same period the office processed 3,251 job applications, gave 1,217 counseling interviews and 742 aptitude tests and referred, 2,262 persons to employers. Local employers hired 1,301 persons and 552 persons obtained employment outside the Chicago area.

The figures were substantially higher than for a comparable period in the second half of 1955. Copersmet said "business" had picked up much more rapidly since re-opening than had been forseen.

Th manager said that his office is now developing a program of increased cooperation with area high schools so that graduating students soon to enter the labor market may receive job guidance.

COPERSMET observed that cooperation from employers throughout the area had been "gratifying."

And, he added, his office has hundreds of job openings for persons seeking full or part time work. (BB

O'Hare Field Geared For Future, Says Air Expert

Chicago's O'Hare field—in contrast to most large airports—will not become obsolete and outdated within a few years, it is predicted in an article in the current issue of the Northwestern University Journal of Air Law and Commerce.

The prediction is made by John L. Donoghue, who several years ago was commissioned by the city to survey Chicago's present and future airport needs.

Donoghue states that nearly all of the world's terminal airports "were either obsolete or inadequate on their dedication day."

HOWEVER, HE ADDS, "because of the fact that the master plan for O'Hare field is so far-reaching and capable of flexible development, it is confidently believed that this is one airport which will grow with the traffic and not be obsoleted either by increases in traffic or by changes in the character of the traffic throughout its useful economic life."

The expansion of O'Hare has been planned to take place in several stages, Donoghue points out. The field ultimately will be able to handle 22,400,000 passenger movements annually. This is about three times the current capacity of Midway airport, the busiest in the world.

At O'Hare's peak single hour in the future, it is estimated that there will be more than 15,000 passengers, workers, spectators, and visitors bustling through the terminal area.

AS O'HARE grows, the burden will be taken off Midway airport until the passenger load there levels off at about two-thirds of what it now is.

But good physical planning is not enough, according to Donoghue. He adds that, "On every major engineering project, the financial structure upon which the project rests is as vital as the very physical foundations."

Donoghue feels that everyone who benefits from the airport — the public as well as the airlines — should share in the cost of financing O'Hare. He cites land rental, fees, and concessions as sources of non-aviation income.

The initial cost of expanding the air field, which has been furnished through city bonds and state and federal aid, is about 20 million dollars. It is estimated that it will cost another 30 million dollars to bring the field up to the third stage of its development.

DONOGHUE also discusses in his article the increasing use of helicopters, especially for short-haul traffic. He estimates that within 20 years, about 40 per cent of air passengers will be carried in vertical rising aircraft. In Chicago, Donoghue explains, Meigs air field will be expanded to handle most of this new type of air travel.

Donoghue is an associate for Ralph H. Burke, Inc., airport consultants for the city of Chicago.

Man's real status as a child of God—possessing unlimited freedom and happiness—will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday, September 2.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" will include the following from Galatians (3:26, 29): "For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus . . . And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (227:24-26): "Citizens of the world, accept the 'glorious liberty of the children of God,' and be free! This is your divine right."

The Golden Text is from 1 John (3:1): "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God."

IN THE SHADOW OF THE STEEPLE

Leisure Class And Labor Day

by WILLIAM O. MCGILL

As the Labor day weekend approaches, we might say that this day represents the symbol of the new leisured class.

Many of our fathers worked a 10 or 12-hour day, 6 days a week, with virtually no paid holidays.

The guaranteed-annual-wage and the stepped up approach to automation brings the working man closer to 30-plus hours per week, on a 5-day schedule or possibly even a 4-day schedule.

MANAGERS, proprietors, and supervisory personnel, along with most of the "creative" workers seem to move closer and closer to the twelve-hour day.

The interests of work invade their social life, their leisure at home, their recreation.

Whether this transition to diminished work requirements for the manager or owner is a good or bad thing (for either one) is hardly the point.

Obviously there is a need for ethical reconsideration of the individual's relation to his work and his leisure.

Why are you doing what you do — either from 9 to 5, or 8 to 4, on Tuesday or on Saturday or Sunday?

Why are you doing what you do — from 7 to 11, Monday night or Saturday night?

What personal satisfactions do you get out of your work or your leisure?

What social satisfactions do you get from either one?

WHO BENEFITS from what you do, apart from the living expenses which your family receives in return for your work?

The cash-return, of course, is important, and none of us could do without it. But here we are asking about the benefits which the work itself confers upon others.

Who benefits from your leisure time occupations? There are those who give themselves in service to their church, or to community affairs. Who is served by what you are doing on your own time? Are you doing it for them, or for personal satisfactions?

THESE ARE important questions which everyone should ask himself or herself. They go to the heart of the issues of why you are living.

In a sense, they ask you to think about yourself in the world. Admittedly, this is a hard task; it is much easier to let events come to you, to let matters drift along.

But there comes a time in every life when dissatisfactions mount, when grief storms the fortress of a seemingly ordered life, and human beings are required to know themselves.

Prepare yourself for a time when you may be weighed in the scales of destiny by making an initial personal survey. (B10

Spray With Care And Save Your Trees

Uncontrolled spraying of weeds can cause untold damage to young trees and is capable of retarding growth of larger trees, according to A. C. Foley, chairman of the Illinois forest industries committee.

Foley, whose committee is state sponsor of the industry tree farm program of good forest management, issued a plea to farmers today to use care in weed-spraying programs in order to avoid damaging trees in nearby farm woodlots.

THE INDUSTRY chairman said a report on damage to an Illinois tree crop which came to him today indicated that 13 acres of tree farm timber was damaged recently by wind-borne weed spray being applied in a nearby corn field. The spray withered leaves on several hundred sycamore and tulip trees, according to John M. Arthur, plant research scientist who investigated the incident.

"I cannot overstress the importance of trees to the state's forest economy," Foley declared. "Illinois could grow enough timber to meet its present demands and could stop importing large quantities of hardwoods if all marginal and submarginal argicultural lands were planted to trees and if present forest lands were managed properly."

THERE ARE presently more than 6,000 acres of privately owned, taxpaying timberland in Illinois enrolled in the industry-sponsored tree farm program to grow timber as a crop. The program is active in 44 states.

Nationally, there are some 8,500 tree farms comprised of nearly 40 million acres of well-managed timberland -- an area larger than the state of Illinois. The program is operated by forest industries through American Forest Products Industries, Inc. (DL

National Tea Co. Sales Set Record

H. V. McNamara, president National Tea co., today announced continued increased sales for this midwest food chain, fifth largest in the nation, making new records in retailig history.

Sales for the 4 weeks ending August 11, totaled $46,-225,857, which is an increase of $4,139,763, and a gain of 9.84 per cent over the comparable 4-week period of 1955.

Consolidated sales for the National Tea co. during the 32 weeks of the year to date totaled $373,387,540, which compares with sales of $342,424,004 for the corresponding weeks of last year, giving the company a gain in sales of $30,963,536, and an average gain of 9.04 per cent

AT THE TIME of this report, National Tea co. was operating 753 stores in 14 states throughout the middle west, as compared to 717 stores at this time a year ago. The number of stores in operation does not accurately project the company's growth, inasmuch as a number of stores have been closed or relocated in line with the company's modernization and expansion plans.

For the year thus far, National has opened 43 new super markets in its 10 branches of operation, of which 36 are installations of new locations representing the company's expansion plans, and seven are relocations of former stores to offer expanded and more modern facilities.

In addition to the large number of super markets opened this year, the company has completely remodeled a number of existing locations, installing such modern merchandising facilities at 100 per cent self-service meats, expanded refrigeration facilities, automatic check out services, and air-conditioning in all new stores. All operated by the self-service method, and about 50 per cent of the company's 753 stores now offer self-service meats. Produce departments have been converted to self-service operations in many areas.

ABOUT TWO-THIRDS of the company's stores are now air conditioned, and, according to McNamara, before another summer season approaches, air conditioning will be standard equipment in all National Food Stores.

Prompted by a report of earnings for the first six periods of 1956, during which the company showed a net profit of 1.03 per cent of sales. National Tea co. has embarked upon a new advertising campaign to dramatize it's expanded and modernized food services, which are provided to the public at such a low per cent of the dollars spent in its stores.

The advertising slogan "Serving Millions For A Penny," is substantiated by the fact that the company is now serving over 3 million patrons a week at a net profit of about one per cent.

Thus the company has shared with its customers, as well as its shareholders the facts of life, while operating the fifth largest retailing food business in these United States. (BB

Business Briefs

Bits O' Business

The steel mills are swringing back into high-gear production. Operations this past week were expected to rise above 95 per cent of rated capacity... Higher circulation guarantees are being reported by the nation's magazines and with better circulation comes higher ad rates.. Of interest to the insurance trade is the increasing number of fires. Fire losses in July were up 10.3 per cent over the same period in '55.

Shell Meeting

V. C. Wroblewski

Thirty four top executives of the Shell Oil company's Chicago division will hold their annual staff conference September 4 through September 7 at the Maxwelton Brae Resort, Baileys Harbor, Wisconsin. H. J. Underwood, Shell's division manager, is heading the meeting.

Problems confronting the oil industry and new programs to be introduced by Shell this coming year will be discussed.

Among the new products which She will introduce this fall is a new and improved Premium X-100 motor oil that motorists can use in all climates, all kinds of driving. With the use of this oil only one grade is necessary for all seasons. This oil gives motorists five to ten more horsepower, prevent deposit build-up in combustion chambers and has the effect of increasing gasoline performance by as much as five octane numbers. One of the main purposes of this oil is that it stops acid action - the major cause of engine wear.

Among those attending from this area are:

C. A. Lorenzen, Commercial manager, 311 Reuter ave., Arlington Heights.

V. C. Wroblewski, asphalt manager, 209 Derbyshire lane, Arlington Heights.

J. E. Morehouse, Jr., personnel manager, 410 S. Lincoln lane, Arlington Heights.

H. O. [illegible], retail manager, 418 W. Wilson, Palatine.

West Coast New Car Gyp Gimmick Reaches Chicago

"Would you like a new car at no cost to you?" is the latest sales pitch in the automobile field.

Nothing could be further from the truth, says Carl Dalke, manager of the automobile division of the Chicago Better Business Bureau.

Recipients of this "no cost" automobile must either pay cash or sign the usual time contract with promissory notes for the company's price of the car.

This new selling gimmick, which was started on the west coast, has now reached Chicago.

It is described as a referral plan, in which the purchaser, on the promise of $100 and $50 commissions, provides names of other prospective buyers.

ACTUALLY this scheme, while masquerading as a sure fire deal to get a brand new car at no cost, is little more than if not the same as—the old chain letter scheme.

Here's the come-on pitch:

"How would you like to have a new 'Whirlwind' Automobile at no cost to you by working on an advertising program,. I can't explain the deal to you, but if you are interested I'll turn in your name for an interview. I have my car and as long as I do a little work on the program, my car costs me nothing. You can do the same thing."

* * *

NATURALLY anyone would like a new car at "no cost," but don't get roped in on this deal, says Dalke.

In theory, the deal sounds possible.

All you have to do is turn in a name of a potential buyer. If he buys, you get $100 commission and he starts a new chain by turning in other names. If they buy you are supposed to get an additional $50 commission from their purchase.

It sounds most alluring. The only trouble is that, as with all chain promotions, it is mathematically impossible to complete the chain.

Even if very adult in Chicago bought a "Whirlwind," all participants could not earn these commissions because there would be no one left to buy. Most participants will be stuck with the full price.

WHEN SUBMITTED to the United States post office department, office of the solicitor, the Chicago Better Business Bureau was advised:

"The plan is regarded as an endless chain scheme, the operation of which conflicts with the postal lottery and fraud laws. All matter pertaining to the plan would be non-mailable."

If you are approached on this deal, don't forget that you have to sign a contract and obligate yourself for all the regular payments if you don't pay cash, and that your chances of earning a new car under this referral plan may be 1 in 50.

Most purchasers will be stuck with the full price.

Brotherhood Session

Representing the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters at Park Ridge, a delegation of Explorers and adult leaders are taking part with more than 2,500 others in the 41st Anniversary National Conference of the Order of the Arrow at Indiana university this week.

Theme of the conference is "Arrowmen! Lead in Service for God and Country."

The 4-day conference of fellowship, training, and exchange of ideas is believed to be the only national meeting of its kind to be run entirely by young men whose ages average between 17 and 20.

THE ORDER of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of Scout honor campers with a membership of approximately 100,000 experienced campers of the Boy Scouts of America, in whose program it has an official place. A total of 486 local Boy Scout councils have the Order as a part of their year-round camping program.

Local delegates are members of the Lakota Lodge of the Northwest Suburban Council. Lokota Lodge was chartered in 1939 and has over 200 Scout and Scouter members. Marvin Lipofsky, a 17-year-old Eagle Scout of Barrington, serves at Lodge Chief.

THE LOCAL delegates are: Marvin Lipofsky, Barrington; Kenneth Larson, Park Ridge; Gary Young, Mount Prospect; Bruce Bell, Barrington; Dick Lochner, Morton Grove; Terry Cobry, Des Plaines; Art Dover, Skokie; David Bosserman, Schiller Park; Dick McAuliffe, Arlington Heights; Mr. L. T. McAuliffe, Arlington Heights.

Members of the Order are selected by fellow Scout campers as worthy examples of living the Scout Oath and Law. The Order develops and maintains camp traditions and spirit, and generally promotes camping among Boy Scout troops and Explorer units. It is recognized as an influential force in teaching democratic principles, Scouting ideals, and good citizenship.

In addition to workshop sessions on many phases of the Order of the Arrow work, the program at Bloomington includes field sports, a beef barbecue, an Indian dance competition, gigantic fellowship campfire, and recognitions and awards.

Shades Of 1896! Dime For Dinner

In the battle of the super markets, anything is likely to happen.

It is nothing these days to hear of a super market with a gala Hollywood style opening, offering anything from diamond rings, mink coats, automobiles, to elephants, but this one makes news.

Two large super markets opened in Wheaton and no ordinary super markets are these.

One is being operated by National Tea co., the 5th largest chain in the nation, and the other is operated by another one of the large food chains in the country.

TO OPEN in the same city might not be unusual, but to open next door to each other, about the same time, on the same street, with parking lots joining each other, and with buildings built of the same color brick and stone, something had to be done so customers could tell one store from the other.

National Tea co., according to its merchandising manager, Val Bauman, came up with the idea that did the trick.

Like all of us, Bauman still has a fond memory for hot dogs, and remembers when they could be bought for a nickel complete with mustard, onion, and piccalilli. Believing that people still like hot dogs, the company came up with the idea to really treat all folks in suburban Wheaton.

WHEN THE NEW National Food store opened its doors, there was erected just outside the front door a big circus tent, prepared to serve thousands of people with complete full course dinners for only 10 cents. They started off with a hot-dog, with relish and mustard, cooked piping hot, and served in a full sized warm bun, a bag of potato chips, because, of course, it would not be dinner without meat and potatoes, a bottle of Coca Cola, and, to top it off, a package of ice cream for dessert.

Meat, potatoes, beverage, and dessert, all for just one thin dime — and it's all happening in Chicagoland — not 20 years ago — but in 1956! (BB

Home Ownership Cited

Home ownership, now appreciated by the majority of Americans for its contribution to pleasant and healthful daily living, is one of the bulwarks in family planning for future retirement, according to Ruth C. Wendt, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors.

"There is a great deal of talk these days about the fact that our population is tending to have a higher proportion of elderly persons," Miss Wendt said. "And it is true that in 1900 only slightly over 4 per cent of our population was 65 or over, compared with about 8 per cent in that age group today, and an estimated 10 per cent of our people who will be 65 or over in 1975."

THERE ARE 5 concrete steps which many American families can take on their own initiative to assure a financially-secure old age. Home ownership is one of these, and like the others, the earlier in life it is realized the more pleasant the retirement years will be, she said. Miss Wendt listed the other 4 elements in a practical personal retirement plan as the maintenance of a savings or investment account, the creation of a life insurance program providing for a monthly retirement income as well as the protection of dependents, an understanding of federal social security which can provide only minimum benefits, and knowledge of the provisions of company pension plans that may be available to employees.

Fire Losses

Estimated fire losses in the United States during July amounted to $68,752,000, the National board of fire underwriters has reported.

According to Lewis A. Vincent, NBFU's general manager, this $68,752,000 loss represents a decrease of 8 per cent from losses of $74,770,000 reported for June (1956) and an increase of 11.6 per cent over losses of $61,614,000 reported for July, 1955.

Losses for the first seven months of 1956 now total $586,155,000 an increase of 10.3 per cent over the first seven months of 1955, when they amounted to $531,371,000.

Village Manager Government Studied By LWV

Members of the League of Women Voters have concluded a series of 2 workshops on the village manager form of government. These meetings are part of the study of the local agenda adopted by the Arlington Heights league.

As adopted, the agenda reviews the council manager form of municipal government by state statute, a study of the implementing ordinance, what it must contain and what it can include.

Because of a referendum passed by better than 2 to 1 last November, Arlington Heights is to continue to be governed under the village manager system, but by state statute. The state statute regarding this system makes certain requirements necessary and the village trustees are to pass an implementing ordinance which complies with the state statute.

At the first workshop, Mr. Klingner, attorney and a president of the local American Legion, acted as resource person as members studied the state statute. In preparation for the second meeting the local agenda committee visited managers and presidents in other towns having village manager government, a mayor of a town having this system, an attorney who helped write the ordinance for his town, a professor of government, and the national village managers association with headquarters at the University of Chicago. These people were asked for recommendation regarding writing an ordinance and at the second workshop, members discussed these suggestions.

Results of the study will be made public when completed. League members hope that in serving the community by making this study, responsible citizens will be better informed and will be able to make decisions about the best kind of government for their town.

Mrs. Stephen Jurco is the local agenda chairman. Committee members are Miss Marian Pope, Mrs. Edward Carlisle, Mrs. Robert Phillips, Mrs. John S. Hoover, Mrs. J. G. Johnson and Mrs. Bernard Robinsen.

Favorites For Flavor

When the Robert L. Chyrchels throw a party it's usually a big one, and Mrs. Chyrchel has a favorite barbecue recipe which she likes to serve at these functions.

Very simple to make, the barbecue contains only 5 ingredients: cooked shredded stew beef and pork shoulder, onions, chili sauce and Heinz 57 sauce.

This tasty concoction is spooned onto buns, and is excellent for summer picnics. It is wonderful to serve to large groups, as this recipe is adequate for 20 people. It can also be proportioned so that 10 pounds of meat will serve 50 people.

Another attractive feature is that it can be made in large quantities, frozen, and taken out as needed.

Mrs. Chyrchel usually accompanies the barbecue with potato chips, pickles and a tossed salad with a sweet French dressing.

The Chyrchels live at 103 W. Willow in Prospect Heights. They have 2 children: Anita, 12, and Steve, 10.

Mrs. Chyrchel has been a girl scout leader for 6 years, and is a member of the Prospect Heights Improvement association and the PTA.

She was one of the original founders of the musical theater group in this area, whose next production will be "The Firefly."

Barbecue

3½ to 4 pounds stew beef and pork shoulder in chunks
3 large onions, diced
1 bottle chili sauce
½ bottle Heinz 57 sauce

Partly cover meat and onions with water. Season with salt and pepper and cook until tender. (Can use pressure cooker.)

Shred meat. To the meat add one cup of the liquid in which it was cooked.

Add chili sauce and Heinz 57 sauce.

Heat slowly for an hour or less before serving.

Serves about 20 persons.

Farmers Can Figure 1957 Wheat Acreage Reserve Now

Farmers ned not delay until sign-up day to do some figuring on the 1957 wheat acreage reserve program.

Outlined below are facts compiled by agricultural economists at the University of Illinois and the state agricultural stabilization and conservation committee.

To figure the maximum possible payment per acre, a farmer can multiply his normal wheat yield by the county rate per bushel.

Both of these figures may be obtained from the county ASC office.

County bushel rates in Illinois vary from $1.21 to $1.28. Using this rate per acre and the facts listed below, he can decide whether he wants to participate in the wheat acreage reserve program under the soil bank.

1. WHO IS eligible to participate?

Any farmer who has a wheat acreage allotment for 1957 except new wheat farms.

2. Can the farmer who has no wheat acreage allotment, but who could produce 15 acres of wheat without penalty under marketing quota provisions, put some of this 15 acres into the wheat acreage reserve?

No. The farmer must have a wheat allotment and reduce wheat acres below it to be eligible for a wheat acreage reserve payment.

3. How much will the payment be for putting wheat into the acreage reserve?

The rate of payment will be determined by multiplying the county rate per bushel by the normal yield for the farm or the normal yield for the tract of land designated as wheat acreage reserve, whichever is smaller. The county rate will vary from $1.21 to $1.28 per bushel among Illinois counties.

4. HOW SMALL an acreage can a farmer put into the acreage reserve?

The minimum acreage for the wheat acreage reserve will be three acres or the amount of the allotment, whichever is smaller.

5. What is the largest amount that could be put into the wheat acreage reserve?

All of the wheat allotment on farms with fewer than 50 acres, 50 acres on all farms with allotments of 50 to 100 acres and one-half of all allotments over 100 acres.

6. What can the farmer do with land that goes into the wheat acreage reserve?

No crops may be harvested or grazed on this land during the calendar year 1957. A cover crop may be planted, and noxious weeds must be controlled.

7. DOES THE farmer have to comply with all acreage allotments for 1957 in order to get wheat soil bank acreage reserve payments?

Yes, a farmer with both corn and wheat must be within his soil bank corn base or allotment, whichever is in effect. Whether it will be a soil bank corn base or corn allotment will be decided by a referendum of corn producers in the commercial corn-producing area, to be held by December 15, 1956.

8. Do you also have to put corn into the corn acreage reserve to get payment on wheat put into the acreage reserve?

No, you just have to be within the corn base or allotment (whichever applies in 1957).

9. Can a farmer put land that has been in the acreage reserve for 1956 into the wheat acreage reserve for 1957?

Yes.

10. CAN LAND put into corn acreage reserve in 1956 be seeded to wheat this fall for harvest in 1957?

Yes.

11. When does the farmer have to designate the land that will be put into the wheat acreage reserve?

The land must be designated when the contract is signed this fall, and the reserve tract cannot be changed.

12. When can wheat acreage reserve contracts be signed?

County ASC committees do not have authority to sign wheat contracts to date. Final date for signing wheat contracts is September 21, 1956. This date also applies to wheat to be seeded in the spring of 1957. (Fm

Grower Tells Corn Loss In Co-op Market

Ray Lumpp member of the newly organized Arlington Valley Growers, Inc., is not very happy over net returns which he did not get under the marketing arrangement that is being tried this year for the first time.

Wholesale growers of corn for stand sales usually receive 25 cents a dozen, with no cost for sacks or cartage.

On a shipment of 263 sacks (1315 dozen ears), the gross return reported by the growers to Lumpp at 12½ cents per dozen amounted to $163.69.

The handling charge of the Arlington Valley Growers amounted to $115.52 or about 9 cents a dozen. The net of $50.17 did not even cover the price of the sacks which was $52.60, (over 4 cents a dozen.) Lumpp paid his pickers $21.50 on the shipment.

ON THE ABOVE load Lumpp was out $24.10 in cash with no returns for rent of land, fertilizer, seed or spraying.

Th fact that he suffered the same experience, if not worse, on all 5 loads reported to him, causes Lumpp to be very discouraged. He says he believes in cooperation but after such an experience he thinks that cooperative marketing can be a failure. (FM

Illinois TAX FACTS
By George L. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The more we play, the more we pay — even in taxes, according to Maurice W. Scott, acting executive secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. Scott cites the Tax Outlook of August, 1956, which reports that annual vacations taken in 1955 cost $10 billion, as against $5.4 billion spent in 1947.

In fiscal 1955, the Federal excise tax on gasoline (at 2 cents a gallon) brought the federal government $953 million as against $434 million in fiscal 1947. Taxes in 1955 on public conveyances — trains, buses and planes — brought the government $197 million on transportation of persons as compared with $244 million in fiscal 1947 (the tax was reduced from 15 per cent to 10 per cent in early 1954).

LUGGAGE, another travel item, produced $50.9 million from the retail excise tax in fiscal 1955. This amount was less than the $84.6 million garnered in 1947, but here again the tax was reduced in the interim from 20 to 10 per cent.

Another "time free from work activity" — fishing — did its share for the economic picture. In 1955, $18 million was spent for fishing licenses in addition to the $5.3 million brought in by the federal excise tax on fishing rods, creels, and other like equipment.

Club dues, excise taxes on phonograph records, musical instruments, radio-TV sets, movies, theatres and concerts brought in their share in taxes. In 1954, $136 million was taken in on the manufacturer's excise tax on radio sets, television sets, phonographs, etc., while in 1950, $42 million was [illegible] same source. (G

Illinois' Fabulous Corn Crop Is Nation's Biggest

Illinois will be the leading corn producing state this year, replacing Iowa.

Illinois' crop is uniformly good from north to south especially good in central Illinios, the main corn producing area. "Huge crop," "best crop in years" and "couldn't be better" are phrases used by Central Illinois DeKalb crop reporters.

Iowa's corn has been damaged by drouth in southern and western Iowa. One of the worst damaged areas is in the northwestern corner where many fields will be failures. Northern and north central Iowa finally received enough rain to save the crop just as it was starting to deteriorate.

NEBRASKA'S crops on dry land have been almost ruined. Recent light rains could not help the large acreage of corn already blasted and fired. Irrigated acreage of almost a million acres looks good and will again out produce all dry land acreage combined.

Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan have been plagued with too much rain which has interfered with grain and hay harvest and caused considerable loss. Minnesota, however, expects its biggest corn crop in many years—perhaps the largest ever.

SOYBEANS will be one of the highest yielding crops ever raised on the largest acreage ever planted. This means a plentiful supply of this crop, now used as a leading ingredient of livestock and poultry concentrates.

Oats is a short crop — being made shorter and lower in quality because of rain during harvest in several states. Early drouth cut yields badly in Iowa and Nebraska.

Drouth conditions in southwestern Iowa, northwest Missouri and Nebraska are now in the third year, causing many farmers to sell out and others to cut down drastically on livestock numbers.

Amendments To Federal Milk Order Are Approved

Amendments to Federal—Tempo.. The Secretary of Agriculture has approved 2 amendments to Federal milk marketing order 41 in Chicago.

Proposals to amend the order were presented at a Federal order hearing in Chicago during the first week of June.

Pure Milk association proposed both amendments. No producer group presented any opposition to the PMA-sponsored amendments.

APPROVED are the following:

1. A "pool plant" provision, requiring that country plants must ship at least 50 per cent of their milk to market during the period September through November. Plants which ship at least 50 per cent of their producer milk to market will qualify as "pool plants" for the delivery periods of December through August following.

2. Elimination of the 70-cents-market sales of fluid milk during September, October and November.

Both amendments are effective September 1, 1956. The Secretary approved them on August 13.

PURE MILK Association requested the "pool plant" provision to prevent "riding" of the pool by manufacturing plants and to assure the market of an adequate supply of fluid milk during the normally short fall months.

According to Market Administration reports, there were 18 plants which shipped less than 50 per cent of their producer receipts of butterfat to the market in the fall months of 1955.

At the June hearing, Association spokesmen related the difficulty that arose in the fall of 1955 in getting fluid milk into the market to meet consumer bottled milk demands when the pool had abundant market supplies. They emphasized that past conditions of qualification as a "pool plant" stimulated development of new sources of fluid milk at a time when there was no need for it.

In addition, they pointed out that plants participating in the pool to get the advantage of the uniform pool price should be obliged to make milk available to the pool when it is needed most.

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser
CARL F. MEES

How do you buy sweet corn? Do you pick up an ear, pull back the husks and then throw it back into the basket or bin if it isn't exactly to your liking?

I hope you're not guilty because if you use this method, you're spoiling the corn for the next customer.

You can get good corn without ripping back the husks. Sweet corn that has crisp green husks is fresh, yellow or whitish husks are an indication that the corn is old or overmature.

Be sure the husks are firmly wrapped around the ear to form a light package.

Be sure the silk is dark brown and moist. On old, poor quality corn the silk is dry and crumbles at the slightest touch. Lets not rip open the ears of corn, but look for the above qualities.

RECENTLY I received some good information from Charles Ackerman, Floriculture specialist, University of Illinois, relative to the cutting of roses. Im going to pass it on to you. Here is the article. "The way you cut roses affects the beauty and yield of future roses.

"Since the leaves turn light energy from the sun into food energy for the plant, you need to leave as much of the stem as possible on the plant when you cut blooms," says Charles E. Ackerman, University of Illinois floriculture specialist.

"During the first season of bloom, cut the flowers with very short stems. After that you may cut longer stems, but never longer than necessary. Leave at least two five-leaflet leaves between th cut and the main stem.

"HLBRID tea roses usually have a three-leaflet leaf at the top of the stem and a spray of five-leaflet leaves below that. If the stem is weak, but just above the second or third five-leaflet leaf from the base of the stem. If the stem is about as thick as a pen you can cut just below the top leaf on the stem.

"Remove all flowers from the plant when the petals fall. Cut the stem with a sharp knife or shears just above the topmost leaf. Remove withered flowers in a cluster so that the others will have more room to develop. After all flowers in a cluster have withered, cut off the entire stem just above the top leaf.

Warn Live Stock Feeders: Don't Sell By Carcass Grade

Live stock feeders should step back and take a second look before deciding to market their animals by carcass weight and grade.

This method of selling looks attractive at first glance since the stockman appears to avoid all marketing expense and he expects to receive better prices for his animals.

An analysis of the facts, however, proves differently.

FIRST, the stockman bears all the risks for a number of factors including: mix-up of live stock of different owners; accuracy of weights and of carcass grading; death or injury to animals before slaughter; losses from bruised or condemned carcasses; and delay in slaughter (while animals shrink).

Second, the packer is relieved of all these risks plus practically all risks on killouts (yields, grades, bruises, etc.) but as yet pays nothing extra for these benefits.

packer's business from one to four days but receives no compensation for it. This may seem like a small matter on one lot of live stock but it is an item of major importance on a packer's total daily kill.

WIDESPREAD carcass selling would be a serious blow to central markets and probably lead to packwould be a serious blow to central er division of buying territory. Too er division of buying territory. Too many farmers assume that a given lot of live stock is worth the same price to all packers. Marketing men know this is not true as they see it demonstrated continually in the market place.

Farmers and stockmen must insist upon maintaining organized and cooperative selling of live stock on competitive markets to retain bargaining power in the estab-

Third, the stockman finances the lishing of live stock prices.

Plentiful August Rains Boost Crops In Corn Belt

Government corn crop estimates of 3.144 billion bushels for August 1, will be larger by September 1.

August rains have been plentiful in most areas, which will finish out the crop with better yields than earlier anticipated.

In 1948, when the largest corn crop on record, 3,600,000,000 bushels was harvested, August rains caused harness races at the Illinois State Fair to be cancelled on several days; the same thing happened again this year.

But there is no possibility of this year's corn crop equalling that of 1948, as parts of Iowa and nearly all of Nebraska's dryland crop have been injured seriously by drought.

ILLINOIS reports from DeKalb crop reporters indicate one of the best crops of both corn and soybeans on record. Corn is beginning to dent and soybeans are well podded.

"Many bean fields should yield 40 bushels per acre" is our report from Livingston county. The soybean crop this year will come close to the half billion bushel mark - the biggest crop in history. Decatur, Illinois, proclaims itself to be the center of soybean growing, but soybean acreage has increased rapidly in nearly every Corn Belt state.

One bright spot in a crop comeback after drought is in South Dakota where late July and August rains raised corn propsects to the "very good" classification in many areas. The eastern part of the state will apparently have good crops of both corn and soybeans this year.

ONE AREA plagued by excessive rain all season has been eastern Ohio. Oats seeding and corn planting were both delayed and considerable acreage was not planted.

Now, at harvest time, up to one half of the oats and wheat crop has been lost due to continued rain.

The corn crop is extremely late especially in northeastern Ohio. Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan also report delayed harvest and crop losses due to continued rains.

New U.S. Child Labor Laws Apply To Commercial Farmers

Commercial farmers and growers who hired school children during the summer vacation were reminded by the U. S. department of labor today that the legal status of such employment changes when the new Fall school term begins.

The employment of youngsters under 16 during school hours in the district where the children are living while working, is a violation of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, and the farmer himself is held directly responsible, according to Duane A. Wendele, regional director of the U. S. department of labor's wage and hour and public contracts divisions.

"THIS LAW applies to all children; it makes no difference whether they are natives of Illinois or are migrants from another State or nation," Mr. Wendele said.

"There is nothing in the law however, to prevent a farmer's own children from working on his own farm at any time and at any age. Also, there is no minimum are requirement for the employment of children in agriculture before or after school hours, on Saturdays or Sundays, or during school holidays or the regular school vacation periods.

"If a farmer's products move out of Illinois, either directly, or indirectly, he is subject to this law. It is his responsibility to find out the correct age of each young worker he employs, but he is protected from unintentional violation if he has on file an unexpired work permit or age certificate showing the young worker to be at least 16. Generally, these certificates may be obtained from local school officials."

WENDELE SAID that farmers are required to maintain certain records for each of their workers under 18 years of age, if they work on days when school is in session. They include the minor's name in full, date of birth, and the address of his permanent home and where he lives while working if not at his permanent home. These records must be retained by the farmer for three years.

"If a youth under 16 works during school hours for a farmer subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act," Mr. Wendele said, "then the farmer violates the Fair Labor Standards Act, regardless of who hired, or is paying the under-age child." He mentioned that the Secretary of Labor may ask the Federal District Court for an injunction to stop unlawful employment. If the violation is willful, the violator may face criminal prosecution and the penalties are severe.

For a free booklet containing child-labor law information for farmers, write the U. S. department of labor's wage and hour division at 105 W. Adams st., Chicago 3.

Post Harvest Vacations Call For Safety Tips

Farm families who sandwich a vacation between harvest seasons can assure themselves a safer journey by "taking it easy" on the road, says O. L. Hogsett, safety specialist at the University of Illinois.

First, don't start so early in the morning that you won't have had enough sleep. But starting in the evening is dangerous too; by this time your body and mind are beginning to need a rest.

Allow adequate time for rest stops, sight-seeing and heavy traffic. Driving until dark to clip off those "few extra" miles will leave you worn out and with little choice of overnight lodging.

SPEED LIMITS also present problems. But you won't go far wrong if you govern your speed by traffic, weather and road conditions. Of course you should observe legal limits.

A check-up of your car's steering gear, brakes, tires and lights can pay off in a safer and more pleasant trip. Once you're on the road, allow plenty of space between your car and the one ahead of you. At least one car's length for each 10 miles an hour is recommended.

Teamwork Produces Results For George Klein, Jr. Family

Conservation farming is a teamwork activity for members of the George Klein Jr. family, living in Hanover township. Mr. Klein was one of the first cooperators to receive assistance from the North Cook Soil Conservation District.

Klein started improving his land by re-seeding and fertilizing his pasture in 1951. Observation convinced him that he had increased the volume of pasture forage approximately 3 times and caused more rainfall to soak into the subsoil. His next experience with contour farming decreased soil washing and increased rainfall retention in his corn field. Since results have been consistently beneficial, Klein is treating the entire farm to prevent further deterioration.

KLEIN IS A 4-H leader in Hanover Township. Sherman Schubbe worked for him while attending Barrington high school, where he was studying vocational agriculture. Both he and George's son, Randy, have received several awards for 4-H and F.F.A. projects. Charlene was a recent winner with her entry in a horse show. Mrs. Klein provides counsel, encouragement, and is familiar with all activities of the family. Family teamwork produces results for the Kleins.

Many families make their conservation improvements an activity in which all members participate. Frequently several families work on land improvements which are beneficial to their adjoining farms.

All landowners are invited to request assistance from their Soil Conservation District. A detailed inventory of your soils and management recommendations are available without charge. Requests should be made at the district headquarters in the Farm Bureau Building, phone CLearbrook 3-7656 or get acquainted with the district director in your community.

Turn Those Empty Dairy Stalls Into Money Makers

Successful dairymen know that in the long run careful culling pays off in higher net returns.

Empty stalls sometimes make more money than full ones, reminds G. W. Harpestad, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

DARYMEN keep cows to produce milk. If a cow does not give enough milk to pay for her feed, plus a reasonable return on the labor, she takes, the dairyman is better off without her.

Successful dairymen constantly check and evaluate their cows, Harpestad says. They know they will make more money from fewer high-producing cows than from lots of low producers. When they find one that is lagging behind in production, they get her out of the herd.

One cow producing 500 pounds of butterfat a year will return just as much profit over feed cost as will 2 cows producing 300 pounds or 4 cows producing 200 pounds each.

WITH FEWER cows a dairyman can pay more attention to each individual cow and give her a chance to produce to the limit of her capacity.

Chances of injury are less with fewer cows, and veterinary fees are also less because of fewer disease troubles.

Get Laying House Ready For Pullets

Don't sell your new pullets short by keeping the old hens until it's too late to clean the house between flocks.

Don Bray, extension poultry specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says that many poultrymen move their hens to old sheds or range shelters to salvage those large eggs that bring premium prices during the summer and fall.

MOVING THE pullets needn't throw them into a molt if you handle them gently and use familiar equipment, especially in the summer, Bray says.

Here are some suggestions from the poultry specialist about what you can do in the hen house when it is empty:

You can insulate the ceiling or seal off the loft for winter and summer comfort, if you have not already done so, and install louvers or ridge ventilators to carry off hot air. Put in more ventilators, windows and doors if they are needed, and screen them well to keep out disease-carrying rodents and birds.

REPAIR or replace roofing, siding or windows and all equipment to get it in good shape. Replace droppings boards with labor saving droppings pits. Wire the house so that you can use lights to stimulate fall and winter production.

Then clean and disinfect the house thoroughly.

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money," — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

50 Years Ago

August 31, 1906

Palatine – Miss Daisy Paddock is visiting Libertyville friends.

Are you getting your money's worth? On and after Sept. 1 we will sell a 21-ounce loaf of bread for 5 cents. Helen Wilson.

Chas. Yates is ready to receive congratulations on his expected marriage this fall. Charles won't say whether she is a countess, duchess or of what nobility. It is too bad he had to go clear to England for a wife, but anything Charles does is right, so they may be sure of a big welcome if they come here to live. Mr. Yates sails for England Sept. 23.

The Schroeder brothers furnish nearly half the pupils in Staples Corners school, and if they continue as they have started they may have to enlarge the school house. On July 28 the homes of Conrad and George Schroeder were blessed with twin cousins. Now they are beginning to figure who will supply the boys for worthy future husbands of their daughters. The Schroeder families are healthy, prolific and prosperous.

When our representative asked Marshal Bergman the meaning of those canny-looking stones standing in the proposed park, he explained they stand as monuments to the Palatine "dead ones" and as there was not room for a full list of names he left them blank, which would be so representative of their lives. Well, John, there's a lot of racket about town that is made by somebody, and if some of these are in the dead class they don't know it.

Itasca – Aug Forke is the only single man left of seven brothers, and he hopes to be happily married soon, if he can get a good farm and a nice healthy wife to match.

Arlington Heights – Miss Laura and Hattie McElhose returned from their visit with friends in Michigan.

Hons. Theimann, Busse and Penz must have got drowned in a sulphur spring at Mt. Clemens, Mich., or perhpas the "old boy" is testing their nerves on hot gridirons; else why don't they send the Herald a complete official report of their escapades among strangers? Those numerous souvenir postals awaken the anxiety of their friends.

Aldermen Beyer and Hue, accompanied by H. W. Boeger, took advantage of the Devil's Lake excursion. They saw the winter quarters of Ringling Bros. circus, but could not find a saloon. The conductor assessed each 15 cents extra because they didn't bring a bottle on their return trip.

Frank O. Lowden, measuring four square is pre-eminently the man for governor of Illinois.

Vote for Hugo J. Thal at the primary election Sept. 13 for Republican Candidate for Representative from the 7th Senatorial district. His life as a farmer for nine years, his business education and training, his legal education and his experience as a lawyer make him well fitted to represent a district composed of both farmers and business men. (adv.)

Palatine – Nearly all the farmers have completed threshing and report light yield, but good quality of oats. The corn is suffering sadly from the lack of rain. Henry Freise reports the Dakota farms, in which he and other local people are interested, are experiencing a reversal from the bumper crops of last year as everything is dried up. The local supply of potatoes is small and kartoffels are demanding from $2.00 a bag and up. The housewife can not look with disdain upon the "marbles" of the potato bag this year, but rather safe guard them as nuggets.

Rain in Chicago Saturday morning put a damper upon the plans of the Republicans for their big rally and picnic at Deer Grove Park. However several train loads of city people and hundreds of automobiles were here and incidently local people benefited to the extent of over $1000. The entire picnic was "set" by local people and the labor bill for the day was nearly $300. The supplies so far as possible were purchased of home people. A number of the local young people took part in the races and received exceptionally big prizes in gold pieces, etc.

We have heard of spry youngsters, but the threshers, who were working at Henry Luerssen's Friday vouch for a story that beats them all, Henry Jr., an 8½ pound boy, arrived that morning and spurning the nice crib that had been prepared for him by his mother, went out and joined the men at their work. Such pluck on the youngster's part won the hearts of the threshers and each and all of them think he deserves the "crowd" as godfathers. Incidentally, uncle Frank Danielsen is as happy over the boy as is daddy.

Mt. Prospect – Wm. Busse & Son are selling lots of farm machinery these days. They can't get Buick cars fast enough to fill their orders.

Mt. Prospect, the fastest growing town along the line, has a new up-to-date depot. It will have electric lights and all modern conveniences also a long wide brick platform and a better time schedule of 13 trains each way daily.

Palatine– Miss Rose Kuebler, daughter of I. M. Kuebler, became the bride of Wm. Huecker at her home August 26. It was a beautiful, touching ceremony. The young lady was taking unto her self a new name in the place that had and which was connected with so many dear memories of the days gone by.

Miss Mary Mors died August 25 and Mrs. Christ Hoelze died August 26.

Mr. J. V. Whiting is dead. He passed away at his home August 28, aged 63 years. He lent his influence to everything that was for the welfare of the community. Thus, he was among the men who banded together 25 years ago to give Arlington Heights a banking institution. He has been a director of that bank a large part of that time and has been its first vice president the last ten years.

MORE MORE MORE

The Whiting family were Vermont Yankees who were among the early settlers of this section of Cook county. His father L. W. Whiting came to Elk Grove with his parents in 1834. Upon attaining his majority Mr. Whiting followed the footsteps of his father and took up farming, first in Elk Grove and later in the southwestern part of Wheeling twp. This farm of Wheeling township. This farm is today a part of the village of Arlington Heights and it was in the old two story brick school building still being used today that Mr. Whiting received his education.

The Mexican army has nothing on the Palatine police force as regards the percentage of officers. Palatine's police army now consists of four men, two motocycles and a Ford with an attached police gong. New uniforms, stars, badges and gold braid will proclaim to the world that Trustee Wittenburg is chief, Wm. Garms is captain, Mr. Haight is lieutenant and Mr. Gaare the latest member of the force. The latter says that after he has made a dozen pinches he will be entitled to a commission as sergeant.

Palatine hospital has been crowded to full capacity recently, utilizing every available bed.

Mt. Prospect – The Northwest Hills Country club golf course is making splendid headway and the contractors hope to have the first nine holes ready very soon.

Bensenville – The carnival company that pitched its tents, covering its money gathering concessions late last week pulled out Monday night. From all reports Bensenville and community are not much in favor of those affairs and did not patronize this one very freely. Our local civic organizations give entertainments occasionally and are usually well patronized as the money spent at these is all used to assist in making Bensenville.

The election held in Palatine Tuesday to vote on the proposal to increase the Village tax rate resulted in a tie. Fifty votes were cast with twenty-five for and twenty-five against.

As a result of this election the proposition was lost and the village may face financial difficulties.

Paddock Publications believes that Arlington Heights people will want to invest more than $1 per inhabitant in a War Memorial. This paper favors the installation of night lighting of the athletic field in Recreation Park but not as a war memorial.

A War Memorial should be a building that would serve as a lasting memorial honoring our several hundred boys and girls who gave their service in World War II. The present $7,000 in the War Memorial fund is only a beginning of the amount Arlington Heights should spend for such a purpose.

The parish house of St. Peter church, Arlington Heights, was badly damaged by fire Tuesday.

About 35 boys have been practicing football daily at Palatine township high school. While veteran material is scarce there seem to be a fair supply of big boys.

Over a thousand invitations have been mailed to members and friends for observance of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church in Palatine.

Dr. E. W. Brust, practicing physician for more than 47 years in Addison and surrounding communities, died at his home early Tuesday. (X

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

DES PLAINES

The city council approved the hiring of a firm of professional managerial consultants to make a thorough study of all phases of city government. The survey, for which $4,600 was appropriated, will analyze jobs, departmental procedure and in general appraise the efficiency of the city's aldermanic-mayor form of government. Consultants are J. L. Jacobs and associates of Chicago.

Des Plaines residents will get a chance to vote on a proposition to build a new library sometime this fall. If the referendum is approved, the library board will purchase the northeast corner of Thacker and Graceland sts. for a site.

In a sharply-divided 8 to 5 vote, the city council approved a committee recommendation that the police chief be allowed to keep 2 sets of police records, 1 set to be released to the public, the other to be kept confidential. Two aldermen who voted against the new policy said they agreed that certain classes of information, including information whose disclosure would hamper investigation, names of victims in sex crimes and names of juveniles involved in lesser crimes, should be kept confidential. The two aldermen, however, criticized the inclusion in the confidential class of "any information which would jeopardize the safety or do injury to a person."

BARRINGTON

Presence of Dutch elm disease in an elm in Jewel Park was confirmed by a recent report from the State Natural History survey in Urbana. The tree was cut and burned immediately and all trees within a radius of 1,000 feet sprayed. After a meeting of village officials, it was agreed to plan a campaign of tree trimming and spraying to control the spread of the disease.

PALATINE

Three more cases of Dutch elm disease were discovered in the village last week. Two trees had already succumbed to the blight; a third is in serious condition.

MT. PROSPECT

Reduction of taxation for Mt. Prospect village purposes is definitely in the cards for 1957. This was indicated last week at the passage of the 1957 tax levy ordinance.

A young Mt. Prospect soprano, Miss Barbara Leichsenring, earned a $1,000 cash prize and an opportunity to sing on television by winning the Chicago Tribune music festival. She will appear September 2 on the Ed Sullivan show.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

In a long-awaited move, the Arlington Heights village board last week gave its special counsel authority to file suit to force the Consumers co. to shut down its cement-batching plant on Northwest highway.

At the board meeting a hassle arose when Trustee John Hoovr sharply questioned Police Chief Skoog on complaints that police were failing to ticket phone company employees violating 2-hour parking restriction on streets near the phone building.

BECAUSE OF FIRST METHODIST CHUNCH moving to its new home on Euclid ave., women of the Arlington Heights church will hold their 13th annual antique show in Arlington Heights field house instead of the old church at N. Dunton and St. James. The show will be held September 19 and 20 with Mrs. Burton Bauer as chairman. Committee members posing on steps of the field house, left to right, are Mesdames R. E. Walters, J. E. Chidley, R. J. Marsh, M. F. Daniels, A. L. Ashcraft, J. Dickie Jr., M. W. Whitelaw, D. Thompson, E. Streholw, D. Yeast, C. W. Gustason, A. Nelson, W. Dill and B. Bauer. —Staff photo

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

'You're Tops'

Congratulations on your 75th birthday and a lifetime of service to the northwest communities. When Palatine named the new school for you, it was well-deserved recognition.

In the 20 years I've been with the public relations office of the University of Illinois I've seen a great many newspapers, daily and weekly, from all parts of our state. Yours can stand up with the best in public service, news coverage and interest, pictures, typography and printing, advertising, and of course you're tops among weekly circulation.

I'm proud to be among your "alumni" and a personal friend of you and your family. I hope you have many more years in the profession you enjoy and among the many friends you have, both in the suburbs and throughout the state.

Cordially,
Arthur R. Wildhagen

Good Neighbor

Last week your paper gave full coverage to the report that the Village of Palatine would enforce the law about obstruction of traffic by North Western railroad trains. Your news story included a quotation of my telegram on this to the railroad's management.

At the time your story was prepared I had not yet received a reply to my wire, although (as your story indicated) there had been no further vexing delays due to train switching subsequent to my telegram. But, as your article was being run I received the following wire from Mr. C. C. Shannon, general manager of the North Western:

* * *

"RE: YOUR WIRE about blocking crossing—we will get into the matter right away and bring about an improvement. If improvement is not noted, feel free to advise me, C. C. Shannon, Chicago and North Western R.R."

As always, the North Western is proving itself a good neighbor in helping to solve mutual problems of the town and the railroad. There has been no obstruction of intersections during the past week so it is clear that all the railroad people concerned are doing their part to correct the situation which prompted the exchange of telegrams.

Our thanks to the North Western railroad for their splendid cooperation.

Howard I. Olsen
President,
Village of Palatine

Federal Offense

Is it possible to have anything mentioned in your paper in regard to people using our mail boxes for advertising?

I believe it is a federal offense for anyone to open our mail boxes other than the mail man and the owner.

Last week some (3) children went from 1 mailbox to the next putting in advertisement regarding a lounge in Berwyn. Within an hour a man came along in a car—he put a slip advertising some garages by a construction company in Bensenville.

* * *

WITH ELECTION coming our mail boxes will again be used as they have in the past.

Can you mention and remind people not to use mail boxes for advertising and that it is a federal offense.

Our street has 40 mail boxes and the next streets about the same.

Upholds Youth

Last evening while attending a bowling meeting at Hi-Way recreation, I came out to find my car was "hemmed in" so to speak, and for me that wasn't good.

A young man drove up and came over to help. A more courteous person I have yet to see. He managed, after a bit, to back the car out. He handed me a card stating he was a member of a club called the Land Yachts, whose motto is "Courtesy is Contagious," an Auto Club Dedicated to Safety.

I didn't get his name but he said he was from Palatine, and I would like to thank him through your column and tell him and all his members what a wonderful way to uphold the youth of America today. Thank you.

Thespian Thanks

On behalf of the Summer Stage players, I would like to thank all the wonderful people who helped our production of "The Importance of Being Earnest" to be a success.

Many people offered their time, effort and interest, which points to one thing - this community does back its teen-agers.

SUMMER STAGE hopes to produce a big smash for your next summer's enjoyment.

Thanks to one and all.

Family Need

Thanks to your interest and cooperation several articles pertaining to Family Service have appeared in this paper during the past few months. It has been our policy to give a phone number for interested parties to contact for further information.

We had hoped to receive calls from members of the community willing to help bring Family Service into this area. To date many calls have been received but they are from people in need of help.

WE ARE lay people, organizing to establish a Family Service Center. We are not in a position to give help ourselves. This morning I received a call I could not complete, due to interference from my young children. I took the phone number, intending to call the party at a more convenient time, but when I did I found that I had not understood her correctly and consequently was unable to contact her again.

Until Family Service, with its professional personnel is available in this area, I would like to ask those people in need of help to call the Community Referal Service, 123 W. Madison, RA 6-0363.

Those interested in helping our organization are still invited to call me.

Inaccuracies Hit

Last week the Fence Post published an article by a disgusted resident of Rolling Meadows. The article began with the statement—"Anyone wondering why so many homes are for sale in Rolling Meadows?"

Why do so many people jump at conclusions?

A good percentage of those "For Sale" signs are put up by people who have bought or are planning to buy a larger home in Rolling Meadows. Many owners are forced to sell because their job has been transferred to another area.

I WOULD also like to dispute the water bill figure presented by that writer.

They do not run $25 to $50 a quarter. I have lived in Rolling Meadows for 2 years and my water bill has averaged exactly $14.23 a quarter.

I have a family of 5 and I have not neglected my yard, so this is fair average.

In regard to the taxes going up, this cannot be blamed on the city Rolling Meadows.

The taxes have gone up in the entire county of Cook. Those people who have rented an apartment the City of Chicago will remember that their rent has gone up much more than the monthly rate our tax — in my case, $5 a month.

TO QUOTE from disgusted's letter again: "Transportation system —this is a joke." The joke, my friend, was not the system, but the long line of cars going to the station each morning and coming back each evening. Many of those people could have been using the bus service that was available.

As far as worrying about the weeds in our park, we have to wait until the area is voted a park district at which time funds will be available for landscaping purposes.

We should not expect too much too soon. I think our city has made splendid progress in the 2 short years that I have lived here. I am of the opinion that some people expect too much and no matter where they live, they would find something to complain about.

WE HAVE excellent and efficient police protection, a progressive and expanding school system, 2 fine shopping centers as well as friendly and growing churches.

If there is anyone who is not satisfied with our community, let them move, but where will they go and find more for their investment than they will find in Rolling Meadows.

Forrest H. Uppling,
Rolling Meadows

Voter Need

During the Democratic and Republican conventions time was given a speaker to urge everyone to vote in the presidential election in November.

He told of the millions of uncast votes. Among these must be many of those who are interested and mentally capable, but because of illness or advanced age unable to get to the polls.

What provision has been made, if any, to meet such circumstances?

IT WOULD be a fine public service, now while there is time, to go into this and make known how the matter stands.

Must people too ill or elderly to get to the polls in November weather lose their vote?

Or, if there is a means of voting under these circumstances, what is it?

We would very much like to know.

JUST from Patty McArdle AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Peg:

We are back home again and, wistfully, are facing the fact that the summer is almost over and vacation just about ended. In a few days, our children will be back in school and you and I will somehow get ourselves involved in all the activities that seem to come with fall. Speaking of the beginning of school, I ran across several interesting articles concerned with the child entering kindergarten. I know you'll be interested in hearing about this subject, since one of yours is beginning.

The entrance into kindergarten is an important milestone for your child and his acceptance or rejection of this big step will depend a great deal on how you handle the first day experience. Naturally, there is no set of rules which will apply to every child — in the final analysis, you have to know your own child's personality and decide for yourself what help he will need to make this new adventure a happy one for him. However, there are a few suggestions that authorities agree will aid a mother faced with this situation for the first time.

SOME CHILDREN who have spent a relatively quiet babyhood in a neighborhood where there have been few or no children and, as a consequence, have spent most of their time with mother, will oppose any situation which will seperate them from their mothers. Not only do they dislike being left alone with a babysitter, but when it comes time for kindergarten, they see it as a frightening place of confinement filled with strangers — big and little. Although the teacher may be a competent and experienced person with this problem, she still may not be able to appease the child who on the first day wants to go back home with his mother.

The most difficult, but important, decision a mother must make at this time is that the child stay with the teacher and class alone the first day. In almost every instance, a child who cries bitterly upon seeing his mother leave is quiet and willing to at least give the place a try, as soon as she's out of sight. If, however, the child is upset the entire morning, then it's suggested that his mother stay for a while the next morning and possibly the next, until the child has made some friends and is acquainted with the teacher.

SOMETIMES just leaving one of her belongings, such as a scarf or hanky, with him acts as an anchor and gives him the feeling that he'll see mother again. A mother may feel that it is better for her child to approach this new experience with a different person, for instance a grandmother or aunt, in which case the separation from mother is made at home.

Whatever way you choose to introduce kindergarten into your child's life, it is most important that you have the proper attitude toward it and toward the separation from your child. Start mentioning the fun and activities of kindergarten in the middle of the summer, so that your child is prepared and looking forward to his first day. Don't let him hear such things as how much you'll miss him when he starts to kindergarten, or how glad you are that you'll have the morning free now to start those art lessons you've always wanted to take.

FORTUNATELY, the large majority of children are eager to start kindergarten, but if yours needs just a little help over this first hurdle, use your good judgement toward the end of making him happy and secure. If you're successful with this first step, you'll help to make all his school days pleasant and fruitful.

My love,
Patty

QUITE CONTRARY BY MARY

THERE IS MORE to this playing of golf than meets the eye. And, there are an awful lot of my clubs that do not meet the ball. I must have a bad set of clubs. The golf balls are not being made the way they used to be. They have no life. What I really want is a ball with a life all its own that will go when whistled at.

For years I resisted all efforts to get me to take up the game. As long as I didn't play, I could think that I would be a whiz-bang on the links. I read all the instructions. I made quite intelligent comments on such things as stances, grips, bunkers, the horrors of getting in traps and par 4 holes.

THEN, SOME WELL meaning soul who shall be nameless but who is related by marriage, gave me a set of golf clubs. This was my undoing. I had to put up or shut up. So far, I have done neither. I can't put up because I play something but it certainly can't honestly be termed golf. Being female, I refuse to shut up.

But, I have changed my tune. Instead of intelligence I now whine around saying to anyone who cares to listen that they can't expect anything of me because I'm just a beginner, you know. Boy, do they know.

SO, THIS RELATIVE sneakily suggested that a couple of lessons would make me a Patty Berg of the midwest in just no time at all. This may all very well be true but it is going to take time. More time than I have left in my life span, I think.

The poor teacher who drew me in the grabbag of life, and who is undoubtedly heading for a nervous breakdown, is patient in a sort of impatient way. I mean he is patient in that he keeps repeating, "Close up your grip, keep your left arm straight, keep your eye on the ball," over and over without any letup.

HE JUST GETS impatient over the fact that I can think of only one thing at a time. If my grip is as close as possible, my left arm is curved in what is a becoming manner but isn't fit for a golfer. And, if I keep my eye on the ball, I never have to look down the fairway because it isn't going anywhere at all. It's right where I'm looking. Down there.

But, teacher and I are both hardy souls and will continue to suffer it through together somehow. And, anyway, winter is coming.

Do not say, "He favors his right ter he got home, he took off his coat." Say, "IMMEDIATELY after he ARRIVED home, he took off his coat."

Do no say, "He favors his right leg in walking." It is better to say, "He SPARES his right leg."

The end-of-sentence preposition, contrary to the belief of many, has the sanction of high authority and good usage. There is nothing at all wrong with saying, "Where did that come from?" "What are you hinting at? " "It is nothing to worry about."

Do not say, "Shall we refer back to the July statement?" Omit "back."

Do not say, "The weather is the same as last week." Say, "The weather is SIMILAR TO THAT OF last week."

Very soon we'll be able to publicly announce the details about that very unusual super-duper treat BILL SIEGEL is cooking up for the sports-minded fans of this area. The next time you're at ARLINGTON HOUSE Restaurant you might ask BILL what it's all about, and he'll probably tell you even before the official announcement is made . . . ARLINGTON HOUSE'S fabulous Rathskeller has become an immensely popular place to hold private parties. Within a matter of days summer will be officially over and we can expect the cooler weather to set in. And when the thermometer starts falling, it can happen awfully fast. That's why it's important for those of you who failed to keep your tanks full this summer to call SCHIMMING OIL CO., CL 3-0163 today and put in that order for your winter fuel supply. You'll be needing the fuel later on anyway, so why be caught with an empty tank when you might be needing heat. Remember, the Conoco Super Heating Oil you buy from SCHIMMING OIL is always refinery fresh and contains anti-sludge and anti-smoke additives.

TILLIE MENSCHING of the LORRAINE-ANNE SHOP is back from a buying trip in California . . . Very soon many of the young men and women from this area will depart for the various college campuses around the country. Those of you whose children are still in grade school or just entering high school might like to know that it currently takes about $7,000 to complete a four-year college course. This certainly points up the necessity of putting away a definite amount each week and month towards a college fund long before your children are ready to enter college. The wisest thing you can do is open a savings account at the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS NATIONAL BANK today and start making regular deposits for those all-important future college educations!

There are endless details required in closing a real estate deal, such as arranging for a satisfactory mortgage, securing a title, opening an escrow if necessary, pro-rating of taxes and insurance, etc. The work involved in buying and selling a house actually begins after a customer selects the house he wishes to purchase. So complicated is the exchange of property that it is almost a must to enlist the aid of REALTORS like WILLSON and FLORENCE if you wish to save yourself time and money as well as many headaches. Believe me, anyone who thinks selling a house amounts to little more than setting a price and then putting up a "For Sale" sign is in for a considerable surprise.
